Romulus residents can avail themselves of smoke detectors at greatly reduced prices through a program offered by the city. By buying them in large volume, the city is able to get a much lower price which it passes on to local citizens.

Airport role to be aired at Romulus public meeting

Local residents of Romulus and Willow Run, as well as local officials, will have an opportunity next week to see, hear and discuss the future roles of both Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport and Willow Run Airport.

Public information meetings, part of a recently begun Master Plan Study of the airports which will take approximately two years to complete, will be held in Romulus and Willow Run on Tuesday, Aug. 15 and Wednesday, Aug. 16, respectively. Both meetings will be at 7:30 p.m.

Although the $600,000 Master Plan Study, financed from Federal grants, will encompass both of the airports operated by the Wayne County Road Commission, each airport will be discussed separately.

The public information meeting on Metro Airport will be held Tuesday, Aug. 15, in the Romulus City Hall Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Rd. The Willow Run Airport meeting will be held Wednesday, Aug. 16, in the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Rd., Belleville.

Both local communities agreed to provide their facilities to permit the first-phase information meetings. The public is invited and encouraged to attend one or both sessions which will be conducted by representatives of Trans Plan, Inc., an independent

New York-based firm conducting the multi-phase Master Plan Study.

Among the items that will be discussed and explained at the initial public meetings are:

- The purpose and scope of the Master Plan Study;
- The forms of public involvement, including questionnaire;
- History of the airport;
- Special features of the airport;
- Use of the airport;
- Service area Socio-Economic character;
- Trends in aviation (Detroit-area and nationally);
- Future of the airport (role, level of use, type of users);
- Master Plan Study in coming months; Open (public) discussion.

While all are topics of importance to the overall Master Plan Study, it is expected that future public information meetings over the next year or so, will be more extensive as to final recommendations and methods of financing.

Ultimately, pending completion of the study and recommendation made, the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners (Michael Berry, chairman; Joseph M. Herron, vice-chairman; and Freddie G. Burton, commissioner) will make their decisions on future airport projects and development.

$40 Million theme park

Huron Township eyed as 'Space World' site

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

The 8,600 inhabitants of farming-oriented New Boston and Huron Township could soon find themselves on the map in a big way.

Space World of Livonia attended last week's session of the Huron Township Planning Commission and expressed interest in building a $40 million "theme park" on some 300-400 acres of land southeast of the New Boston Community.

Clerk Sandra Rhodes said that following a brief outline of the firm's interest in the area, it was referred to scheduled meeting last Monday night of the zoning board of appeals.

The clerk said she had only been appraised second hand of details for the entertainment project which would be built to simulate a lunar colony.

Of the whole land parcel now optioned by Space World, 175 acres would be devoted to the park itself, with the balance set aside for greenbelts and buffers. The land is bounded on north by Ash Road, on the east by Romine Road, on the south by Will Carleton Road and on the west by I-275 expressway.

One aspect of the theme park which sets it apart from other similar projects is that all rides will be enclosed in specially designed buildings.

One aspect of the theme park which sets it apart from other similar projects is that all rides will be enclosed in specially designed buildings. Also, parents will take part in the space-related operation of each ride by actually participating in the handling of controls.

Mrs. Rhodes said the park will contain several restaurants and a theater for special stage productions. She said the firm's officials stressed these would not be of the rock concert variety.

The entire park would be constructed in either two or three phases, with phase I scheduled for completion by 1980 should Space World receive the necessary go-ahead from township officials, the clerk explained.

Dr. Philip Austin, who heads Space World as its president, could not be reached for comment. Last year, the firm had made noises about possibly locating such an enterprise in the Romulus area, but the fanfare soon died down.

According to a spokesperson at the township hall, most of the residents in the area near the proposed site of the theme park are reported to be against construction of the project. Evidently, most feel that the noise, heavy traffic and inconvenience associated with the theme park would be objectionable.

But, for the most part, the rest of the New Boston and Huron residents reportedly favor the space-oriented park because of the revenue it will bring in annual taxes, plus the stimulation of the local economy in the way of new businesses that would have to be built to take care of park patrons.

These would include motels, restaurants, drug stores, department stores, etc.

Total taxes are estimated at $1.2 million yearly, with most going to the state of Michigan. The township, however, would get a sizable percentage of the total taxes, the clerk said.

Space World representatives informed the planning commission that the theme park would be privately funded and would not be financed through the sale of bonds. Source of the private funding was not disclosed by Dr. Austin.

Currently, Mrs. Rhodes said, sewers are not available to the park site, but water lines do run to that area. A proposed lagoon system, with sewage being processed in lake-like lagoons, was cited as also possibly being beneficial to the sewer problems now plaguing the Waltz community.

An important asset to Huron Township residents would be the availability of some 1,400 part-time summer jobs and 150 full-time jobs should the theme park be put into operation, the clerk reported. Space World officials told planning commission members.

To show how successful the firm's representatives believe the theme park would be, they cited an estimate of 1,500 cars per hour during peak times on weekends during the summer season. Entrance to the park would be on Will Carleton Road east of I-275.

The clerk said if Space World is received favorably by the zoning board, a public hearing would be slated probably in September. Then, if subsequently approved by the zoning board, the firm would have to obtain site plan approval from the planning commission before proceeding with plans for construction.

Architect for the theme park is the same firm which designed Disney Land in California and Disney World in Florida, planning commission members were told.

Snafu cancels sale of city-owned land

Thanks to an observant citizen, the city of Romulus was spared a red face and possible legal hassles in the future in its plan to sell city-owned land.

The city had announced recently in the Roman and its own newsletter that 25 lots it owns would be sold on a bid basis and that sealed bids were to be received by the city no later than Aug. 15.

The announcement stated that the lots would be sold at one-half of the assessed value.

But, thanks to an alert citizen who notified City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar of the fact, the city charter stipulates that the city cannot sell such land at "less than its market value as determined and certified to City Council by the assessor".

If the city had proceeded on its original course, it would have disposed of the lots at one-fourth of the market value. (Assessed value is equal to one half of the market value).

Therefore, the city would have lost approximately three-fourths of the worth of the land it sold.

Following Folmar's notice of this information to council, council members last week postponed sale of the 25 lots indefinitely, awaiting a report from the administration on how the land sale should be handled.

Bonnie Lozier quits Romulus chamber

Mrs. Bonnie Lozier, secretary to the newly-formed Romulus Chamber of Commerce, has resigned to accept a job as sales coordinator with the Hilton Inn at Metro Airport.

In her new position which started Monday, Mrs. Lozier will work for Larry Botz, general manager of the Hilton Inn.

Her letter of resignation carried the recommendation that the chamber's board of directors consider Mrs. Patricia Gelmacher as her replacement.

Mrs. Gelmacher is a former deputy city treasurer under both ex-mayor Terry Trout and ex-mayor James Stewart.

Prior to going to work for the chamber, Mrs. Lozier was employed for three years at Romulus City Hall as a secretary to both Trout and Stewart.

Chamber offices are located on the first floor of the Chamber of Commerce Building (Metro Plaza West), 10,000 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus.

Sale of the year

Photo shows part of the annual downtown Romulus sidewalk sale held Saturday night, the last of three days of bargains offered local and area shoppers in summer closeouts and other merchandise. Saturday night's square dance, with Herb Blohm and the Quarternotes drew some 500 persons of all ages to Goddard Road and raised $3000 for local Little League teams. The sale was sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association. Participating in the sale were association members Bilmar's, Greenbriar Store, Family Pharmacy, Romulus Auto Supply, Romulus Hardware and the Refreshment Stop. Will explain tax reforms

Details of the two tax reform proposals which will appear on the November ballot in Michigan will be explained by a state official to Romulus residents Thursday, Aug. 10 at Romulus City Hall.

Douglas Roberts, assistant to the director of the state Department of Management and Budget, will discuss the Tish Amendment and the amendment backed by Taxpayers United for Tax Limitation.

Jay Young, Romulus public information officer, said the public is urged to attend the meeting in the community room of the city hall beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Roberts will explain how both tax reform amendments would affect local residents if enacted into law.

The meeting came about when council members at the July 12 meeting expressed a desire for the two proposals to be explained to city residents, Young said.

Party set for mayor

Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley will be feted by friends and supporters Saturday, Aug. 19, with a cocktail party and dance in honor of his birthday. Cocktails and dancing will begin at 8 p.m. at the Hilton Inn, 31500 Wick Rd., Romulus. Ticket price is $15 per person.

For further information, call Ron Hopson, 941-8854, or Nita Laine, 941-1077.

In New Boston

Festival is Aug. 19

Anticipation is filling the air in the New Boston community and surrounding area as residents await the opening of the 30th annual St. Stephen Festival Aug. 19 and 20.

Sponsored annually by St. Stephen Church in New Boston, the event this year will feature a roast beef dinner Saturday and a barbecued chicken dinner Sunday, according to Russell Dagnais, who is coordinating the affair.

Also on the menu, when food is served from noon until 6 p.m. on both days, will be kielbasa, hamburgers, hot dogs and pizza. Carryouts also will be available.

Entertainment for adults and children will include games, rides and prizes to the winners of scheduled contests, Dagnais said. The festival will be held on parish grounds on Huron River Drive near Sibley Road.

Preregistration is now taking place for the fall session of the YWCA's preschool nursery program.

A $6 deposit per day is required to hold the the child's place. It will be converted to tuition for September and is not refundable in the event of cancellation.

The program is based on that of a cooperative-type nursery where mothers help the teacher a certain number of days each semester. Mondays and Wednesdays will accommodate the 3-year-olds; 4-year-olds will attend on Tuesdays and Thursdays; and Fridays will be a mixed group of 3-and 4-year-olds. The first semester is Sept. 18 through Dec. 22. The second semester will run Jan. 2 through June 1. Fees, if paid full in advance of the term beginning, are $21.00 for first semester, one day per week; $31.50, second semester, one day per week.

Mothers also need to be members of the YWCA which has a $6 annual due. If fees cannot be paid in full they may be paid monthly on the first business day and would be $6 per month per day for nine months regardless of the number of sessions per month.

The program is a well rounded one dealing with the child's physical, emotional, and intellectual growth. Some of the goals of the nursery program are:

GI Bill signups a must

Time is growing short for those veterans who wish to enroll in college or other GI Bill training this fall, Frank Kilcullen, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Detroit, cautioned.

Students enrolling for the first time this fall under the GI Bill already should be in contact with the school of their choice. Acceptance by the college requires an application as well as testing and deposits in many instances.

Veterans who wish to draw GI Bill benefits must be accepted by an approved VA institution and begin training on a specified date in order to receive their first check at the end of the first month.

Many business and technical schools also require prior enrollment and acceptance sometime before actual classes begin.

About half of the Michigan Vietnam Era veterans have taken training under the GI Bill and eligibility for training ends 10 years after discharge. Kilcullen said as a result of this record the VA is making every effort to urge those eligible veterans to use the GI Bill benefits before they expire.

Veterans in training full-time receive $311 a month, and other benefits are available. Full information is available at the VA or from any veterans service organization.

City eyes bigger signs to meet standard

Chances look good that motorists looking at billboards in Romulus in the near future will find them a little larger and possibly a little more professional in appearance and content.

Last Tuesday night, the Romulus City Council reacted favorably to a presentation from the Eller Outdoor Signs Co. and introduced an amendment to the city's sign ordinance which calls for a slightly larger billboard size.

First reading to the amended ordinance is expected at the scheduled Aug. 9 (today) session.

In its presentation, Eller said it had been doing business for many years with the city of Romulus with its displays of out door advertising which promote goods and services for local and national firms.

However, when I-275 was completed and the firm submitted several applications for sign permits for the larger billboards on the new road, it discovered that Romulus' sign ordinance prohibited a display exceeding 600 square feet in area.

Eller explained to council that the standard billboard size of 14' x 48', used throughout the nation, has an area of 672 square feet. Each time that Eller would want to erect such a sign, it would have to ask for a special variance to get around the city's sign ordinance.

The firm requested that the city amend the sign ordinance so that billboard signs of up to 700 square feet will be permitted.

To that end, council introduced and consented to an amendment to the city sign ordinance. Prospects are good that the measure will pass by council after first and second readings, according to a city hall observer.

As a sign of its good faith, Eller offered to redesign the black and white billboard on I-94 between Inkster and Merriman roads at no charge to the city.

The new sign will be in color and will be larger and will carry the message — "Welcome to Romulus, Industry and its Citizens Working Together". Sketch above shows one of three designs submitted by Eller.

Courts order lower suburban water rates

Suburban households will be protected against future overcharges and will enjoy a savings in their water bills due to a Federal court ruling on Detroit sewage treatment charges, according to the chairman of the Wayne County Board of Public Works.

County Commissioner William Sullivan (D-Wyandotte) described the orders handed down recently by U.S. District Judge John Feikens as "an important victory for the suburbs that will have far-reaching effects."

The immediate effect for households in 19 Wayne County communities which are served by the Wayne County Department of Public Works (WCDPW) will be a savings of $1.50 per year in their water bills retroactive to July 1, reported Sullivan.

Feikens ordered that all future rate adjustments by Detroit be reviewed by a court-appointed "master."

He ruled that suburban customers were being charged for sewage treatment improvements which benefit only Detroiters. He ordered a rate reduction for the suburbs.

"In this period of double digit inflation, any savings in welcome but the most important result of the court case is that the suburbs are now protected against such overcharges in the future," Sullivan said.

"The guarantee of impartial review of future rate increases by city of Detroit was our most important victory," he added.

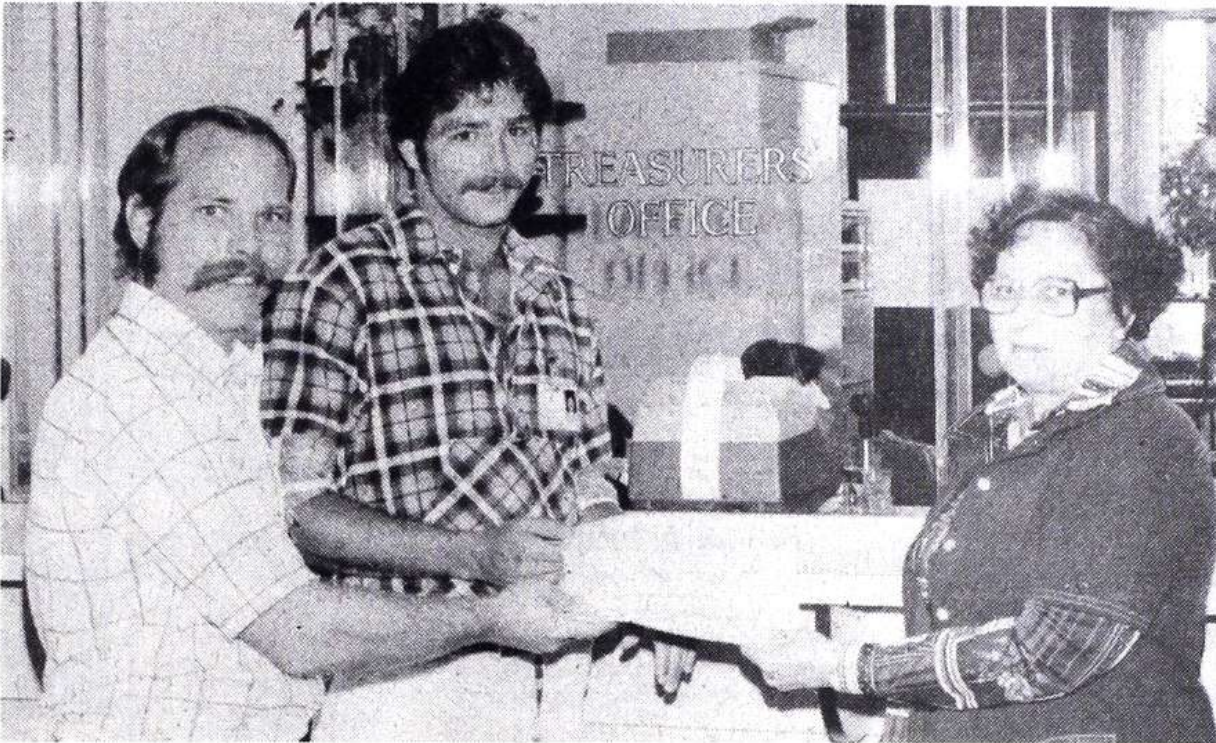

The County Board of Public Works passed on the court-ordered reduction in the Detroit rate charged to suburbs by reducing the County rate from $2.08 per million cubic feet to $2 per million, retroactive to July 1.

The rate cut applies to the following western suburbs:

Livonia, Redford, Canton Township, Dearborn Heights north of Annapolis and west of West Lake, Garden City, Inkster, Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Romulus north of Ecorse Road and west of Wayne Road, Van Buren Township north of Tyler, Wayne, Westland, and Novi in Oakland County.

The court ruling means "the suburbs won't be pushed around by 'Big Brother' Detroit any more," he added.

Dog licenses being checked

For the first time in many years, the city of Romulus is making a check of homeowners door to door to make sure citizens have valid licenses for their dogs and to look for other violations of city ordinances. The survey is being made by the office of Treasurer Helen Gallien and is planned for completion Oct. 1, 1978. She said citizen response to the survey has been "excellent" and that they were pleased to receive a packet provided by the city which provides information on city ordinances and a tag for their telephones which lists emergency numbers. As of Aug. 3, the treasurer's office has sold 2,376 dog licenses this year compared to 2,410 for the entire year of 1977, she said. Shown (left to right) with Mrs. Gallien are the two men making the survey — Jim Bratly and Earl Champagne. (Photo by Jay Young, Romulus public information officer.)

Huge program scheduled

Wayne County Fair opens six-day run in Belleville

Thousands of spectators next Monday will swarm to the opening of the 32nd annual Wayne County Youth Fair which will run for six consecutive days at the Belleville Fairgrounds.

Although the fair officially opens Monday, the annual parade at 2 p.m. Sunday will kick off the agricultural-oriented event. Also scheduled for Sunday at 5 p.m. will be the antique tractor pull.

This coming Saturday, all youth exhibits except livestock and perishables will be brought in and registration will be held for archery enthusiasts from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

On Tuesday, Aug. 15, Senior Citizens Day, all senior citizens will be admitted free of charge. Thursday, Aug. 17, is Children's Day.

Formerly called the Wayne County 4-H Fair, the annual event is sponsored by the Wayne County Fair Association, a non-partisan organization administered by a 21-member board of civic-minded individuals who receive no compensation for their services. Some financial assistance is given on premium money for exhibits by the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The antique tractor pull marks the first time for this event. It will feature tractors of 1940 vintage and older. The public is urged to attend and no admission or parking fees will be charged Sunday for the spectators who wish to witness antique tractors pitted against each other in the pulling contest.

Promoters of the antique tractor pull are hopeful that the event will prove to be popular enough to make it a regular part of the program schedule.

A glance at the fair's program schedule is staggering. The list of events, exhibits, contests and other activities to be presented is so diversified that almost everyone will find something of interest.

Market and breeding classifications for all types of animals and fowl—cattle, poultry, horses, sheep and swine—will be on display for fair goers.

For the members of the fair sex, there will be exhibits of ceramics, macramé, quilts, decoupage, beadwork, rug hooking, crewel and regular embroidery, weaving, knitting, canning, crocheting, candy and cake decorating, dolls, needlework and fancy foods.

For both women and men and children, there will be exhibits and events featuring photography, leather crafts, electrical science, model cars, farm crops, flower gardens, tractor pulls, pony pulling, rabbits, dog obedience, youth pet show, frog jumping contest, rooster crowing contest, gun safety, archery, rocks and minerals and flower and indoor gardens.

The Belleville Fairgrounds is located on Quirk Road, about a quarter-mile north of the north service drive of the I-94 Expressway, north of the city of Belleville.

Adult ed classes set

Residents of the Belleville and Romulus communities who are interested in adult education classes are urged to register for courses which begin Tuesday, Aug. 15, in the Lincoln Consolidated Schools.

Ken Appleby, who is in charge of the program, said courses will be offered at both the Lincoln High School and Sumpter Elementary School.

Registration will begin Aug. 15 at the high school and will be held from 1 to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, he said.

Classes will begin the week of Sept. 11 and will be held from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday. Each course will meet once a week, with offerings ranging from English to electrical wiring to stretch and sew.

Courses are free of charge to any person, regardless of age, who has not completed high school and who is not attending a day school program as a full-time student. Courses are also free to high school graduates under 20 years of age, senior citizens over 62, fully retired persons and members of senior citizens clubs, Appleby explained.

For further information, call Appleby at 482-8710.

Road repairs bid by mayor is approved

Mayor William M. Oakley's recommendation to use city and federal funds to improve Northline Road got an okay Tuesday night from city council with a couple of additions.

Out of a list of four main roads eligible for federal grants through the Wayne County Urban Task Force System, the mayor said he favored the resurfacing of Northline from Wayne Road west to Hannan Road. He estimated the city's share would be $150,000.

Council agreed to a motion made by Mrs. Beverly McAnally to along with the mayor's suggestion — with some stipulations.

Council members felt that the application for federal funds through the county task force should be made for Northline, a city road, but that the city should also indicate it would like to participate with Wayne County on improvements to first, Wayne Road, and second, Ecorse Road.

In the latter event, the city and the county both would have to apply for funds from the county task force.

Oakley explained his priority for Northline Road because of excessive maintenance costs, pavement blowups and because the thoroughfare is a designated truck route.

Industry gets plat okay

Final plat approval was granted last week by the Romulus City Council to the Highland Industrial Development District of Southfield, located on Middlebelt Road south of Wick Road.

Termed an "economic asset to the city" by Hyle Carmichael, city industrial coordinator, the action paves way for further industrial and commercial development of 17 lots contained in the 30.7 acres contained in the district.

Next step is for the developers of the land to obtain site plan approval from the city planning commission, Carmichael said.

Currently, four lots on the east side of Middlebelt Road are zoned C-2 (general business) and 13 lots east of Middlebelt Road are zoned M-2 (heavy industrial).

Construction of an office building has been progressing on the property, the coordinator explained, and workmen are in the process of putting a roof on the structure.

Water and sewer lines and roadways to the parcel are available for prospective tenants, he added.

Childbirth classes slated

Registration is taking place for childbirth education classes through the Plymouth Childbirth Education Association (PCEA).

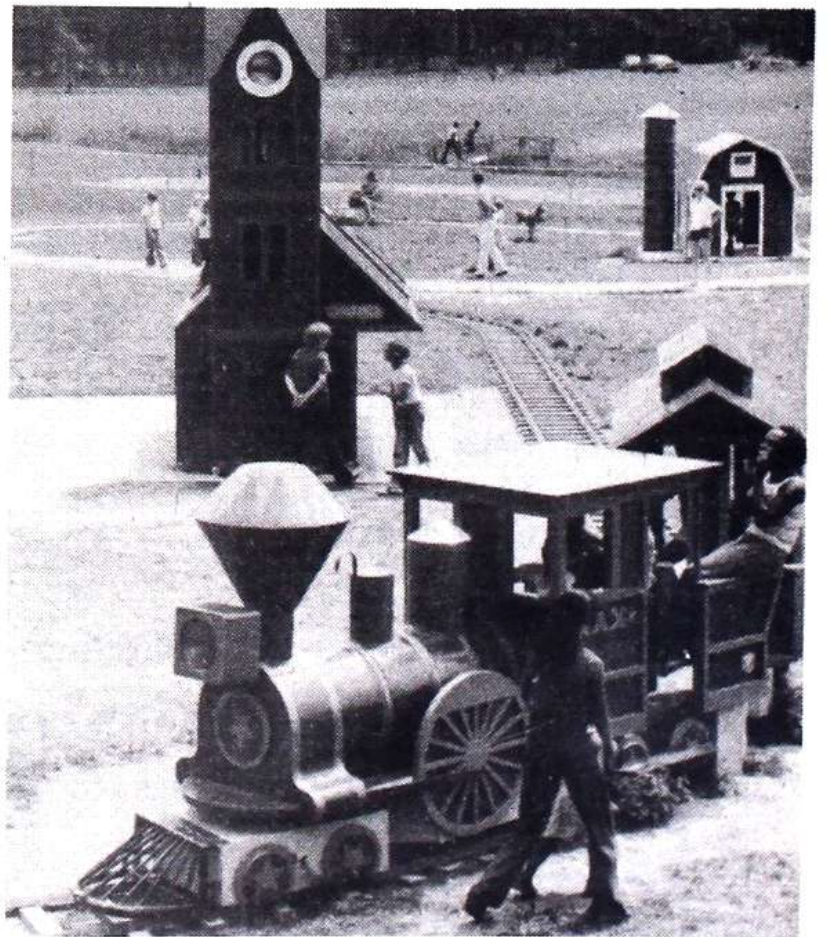

Couples should enroll during the fourth or fifth month of pregnancy by calling PCEA Registrar, 459-7477, Monday through Friday.

The series of eight classes includes one mass class during which films are shown, exercises demonstrated and nutrition information given. Seven additional classes, taught by trained instructors, give information on muscle and breathing control, bodily functions during and after pregnancy, plus husband-wife participation during pregnancy, childbirth and after the child is born.

Classes will be held in the following locations: Plymouth, First Presbyterian Church; Canton, Geneva Presbyterian Church, and St. Michael's Lutheran Church; Farmington, North Farmington Baptist Church; Westland, St. John Episcopal Church; Garden City, Garden City Hospital; Novi, Living Lord Lutheran Church; Wayne, John Glenn High School; Livonia, Newburgh Methodist Church, Sword of Spirit Lutheran Church and Holy Trinity Lutheran Church.

Several new locations will be in operation soon.

In Brief--

Council resets session

The Romulus City Council meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 8, has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 9 (today) because of the primary election.

Nashville tour set

A five-day (four nights) trip to Nashville and the Smoky Mountains is being sponsored by the Romulus Recreation Department, according to Mrs. Marie DeBusscher, director.

The $179 cost of the trip will include all transportation, all motel lodgings, a night at the Grand Ol' Opry and a stop at a Cherokee Indian reservation in North Carolina, she said.

The trip is open to any senior citizen of Wayne County or adult resident of Romulus. Further information may be obtained by calling 941-0666, extension 67.

Skateboard contest slated

The Romulus Recreation Department will sponsor its fourth annual skateboard contest at the Romulus City Hall on Friday, Aug. 11.

The schedule for the activities is as follows: 5-8 year olds, 10-11 a.m.; 9-13 year olds, 12:30-1 p.m.; 14 years and up, 2:30-3:00 p.m.

There is no entry fee. Scheduled events will include downhill, obstacle course, and free-style. Trophies will be given for first place only. Ribbons will be awarded for second, third and fourth places. Contest is open to Romulus Residents only.

60 Permits issued

A total of 60 building permits of all types were issued during July for $367,696.30 in construction by the Romulus Building Department, according to Ed Fall, director.

A breakdown of permits issued showed: one-family houses - 2; buildings demolished - 5; additions and alterations - 29; garages and carports - 14; industrial buildings - 2; fences - 2; mobile homes - 3; swimming pools - 3.

'Y' to hold golf meet

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA will be having its First Annual Invest in Youth Golf Tournament on Aug. 23 at Burroughs Farms Golf Course in Brighton.

Tee-off times will be from 8 a.m. until 11 a.m. and will be by arrangement. The $35 per person cost will include 18 holes of golf, dinner, refreshments and prizes. Also golfers will have an opportunity to play horse-shoes, shuffleboard, cards and swim in the lake, once their round of golf is done.

For further details, call the YMCA at 721-7044 or Ron Newth, YMCA board member, at 721-8000.

'Starrific' has documentaries

A fascinating mix of documentaries and comedies are featured all week long, Aug. 20-26, as Channel 56 continues its presentation of "Starrific" specials—a concentration of great stars and terrific programs Aug. 19-29.

The documentaries include profiles of the Egyptian King Farouk and CIA co-founder Richard Gehlen and glimpses into the worlds of the great whale and a white bear. Comedy highlights of that week will be a festival of Harold Lloyd films, a Bill Cosby monologue and a John Cleese (of "Monty Python") film. On Aug. 20, two hour-long documentaries focus on two men who are both notorious and mysterious. At 6 p.m., the film documentary "Farouk" looks at one of the most infamous figures of this century. The program traces the rise and fall of the playboy-monarch who was overthrown in the Egyptian revolution 25 years ago.

Following at 7 p.m. will be the story of Richard Gehlen, "Super Spy." Gehlen has been called "The Man of a Million Mysteries" and "The Man in the Shadows." He helped found the CIA more than 30 years ago after heading up the West German Secret Service. Starting Aug. 21 and continuing through the week at 7 p.m. will be the "Harold Lloyd Film Festival." The five half-hour segments will feature highlights from some of Lloyd's funniest films.

A touching and thought-provoking documentary is on tap for Aug. 23 at 8 p.m. The National Geographic Special, "The Great Whales," returns for an encore showing. Hosted by E.G. Marshall, the program depicts the life and death struggle of the whale species as it fights to survive in today's world.

Aug. 24 is comedy night on Channel 56, featuring a classic program starring Bill Cosby. "Cosby on Prejudice" stars the popular comedian in a 30-minute monologue pointing out the shallowness of bigots by discussing the most offensive racial and ethnic slurs he can think of.

Later in the evening, at 11:30 p.m., John Cleese, of "Monty Python" fame, returns as Sherlock Holmes in the comedy spoof "The End of Civilization—As We Know It."

On Aug. 26 another wildlife documentary will be shown. "White Bear," the Russian production about a family that tries to return a pet polar bear to its natural environment, begins at 5 p.m.

What Doctors of Chiropractic do, makes sense. They use their hands and a variety of practiced techniques to relieve the pressures that twisted vertebrae put on spinal nerves. The thought is, if you fix the spinal cord so it's not pinched . . . messages from the brain will flow unobstructed. When that happens, the brain communicates better with other parts of the body so every piece and part receives the messages they need to properly function. The result is improved health.

Meetings air roles of area airports

Local residents, as well as local officials, will have an opportunity next week to see, hear and discuss the future roles of both Detroit Metropolitan and Willow Run airports.

Reserve office is open

The 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve), based in Livonia, has opened a new branch recruiting office in the Army Reserve Center at 3200 S. Beech Daly Road, Inkster.

The new station is manned by M.Sgt. Jerry Claffey and S. Agt. Warren Kendall and is normally open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays. The station's telephone number is 561-4500 or 561-7390.

Individuals wishing to talk with the recruiters are urged to telephone ahead to make sure the station will be manned when they arrive.

The new office will recruit for all three of the 300th' Livonia units — the command headquarters, the 301st Military Police Prisoner of War Camp and the 424th Personnel Services Company.

The 300th's members can hold down full-time civilian jobs, since they maintain their military skills through once-a-month weekend drills and two weeks of annual training (usually a summer camp) per year. Those without previous military experience undergo an initial period of full-time basic training and then — depending on current openings and their own qualifications and preferences — may attend full-time Army schools for up to four months or more to learn such skills as Military policemen, automotive mechanic, clerk-typist, medic, etc.

Public information meetings, part of a recently begun Master Plan

Study of the airports which will take approximately two years to complete, will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday. Both meetings will be at 7:30 p.m.

Although the $600,000 Master Plan Study, financed from federal grants will encompass both of the airports operated by the Wayne County Road Commission, each airport will be discussed separately.

The Public information meeting on Metro Airport will be held 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Romulus City Hall Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road. The Willow Run Airport meeting will be held Wednesday in the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Road.

Both local communities agreed to provide their facilities to permit the first-phase information meetings. The public is invited and encouraged to attend one or both sessions, which will be conducted by representatives of Trans Plan Inc., an independent New York-based firm conducting the multi-phase Master Plan Study.

Editorial opinions

Signing a petition easier than voting

With the primary election of 1978 now in the record books, it is once again apparent that too few people exercise their right to vote.

This phenomenon which exists in our communities today, sees fewer and fewer citizens voting, but more and more of them complaining about their government and the people elected to represent them.

Most probably, there will be no solution to this problem of the few governing the many, until such time as the voting process is made easy enough to attract the many voters who are 'just too busy', to make it to the polls.

Perhaps it is even expecting too much to ask citizens to take a part in the democratic process. Especially when so few of them really understand the issues anyway, but the inherent risk associated with a minority of our citizens electing and directing public policy is so great that corrective action is not only necessary, but is vitally necessary.

But aside from the fact that once again only a few people made it to polls, this election year raised an interesting question concerning just who it is that does take the time to vote.

Consider for a moment that this summer has witnessed the successful circulation of no less than 10 initiative petition drives.

Each of those petitions required a minimum of 266,000 signatures of registered voters.

Most of the initiative questions garnered well over that minimum with the 10 questions averaging about 350,000 signatures each. Since many people signed more than one of the petitions for a given question, but probably signed no more than three, because of geographical location of each of the question's sponsors, we will assume that the total number of individual signatures on the ten petition questions totaled 3½ million.

We will throw out 1 million as duplicates, to arrive at a total of 2½ million Michigan registered voters who were involved enough in the political process to at least sign a petition.

Considering that Michigan has 83 counties, 255 incorporated cities, and 267 incorporated villages, we can now find how many of those community's citizens signed a petition.

A quick calculation shows that on a county basis, 30,120 registered voters signed a petition. On the city and village basis, 4,789 citizens signed a petition.

While it is understood that these figures are in no way intended to be considered the last word, it is interesting to note that on an average, more people signed the initiative petitions than chose to vote in this year's primary.

Why?

Our guess is that signing a petition is generally much easier than voting.

Often a petition circulator will post himself outside of a neighborhood store and solicit signatures where the registered voters just happen to be. That system seems to work.

Maybe then, the solution to the complacent voter problem, would be to place the voting machines at the super-markets, the gas stations, public parks, and any of the other many locations which naturally attract the potential voters.

Ask yourself, how many people willingly go to a school where most voting machines are now situated? Not many.

So until the advent of electronic balloting through the family TV set, maybe we should consider the alternatives.

"Bartender, send my beer over to the voting machine."

A pleasant town? Look at Romulus

While it is well known that the Belleville area provides its residential homeowners with an excellent location as well as the quiet neighborhoods sought after by potential buyers, it is not so well known that Romulus can also boast of many fine areas suitable for either the rambling luxury home or the modest three bedroom ranch.

A trip through that city will provide the viewer with both a picture of bustling commercial and industrial developments as well as the quiet tree lined drives where Romulus families comfortably make their homes.

For too long, the name Romulus has fostered visions of discontent, unrest and political turmoil. But lost in that vision were the many sturdy Romulus families who are the community.

Subdivisions with their neatly trimmed lawns, kids playing at the parks, or moms and dads competing at the golf course located near the heart of the town. All essential ingredients necessary for a community if it is to provide its residents with the life style conducive to a healthy citizenry.

We at Associated Newspapers have probably been guilty in the past of overlooking the fine points of the Romulus community. Like so many others, we saw the smoke and thought it was the fire.

We were wrong.

And so is everyone else who feels that the City of Romulus is a hot-bed of citizen discontent.

The community is on its way of ridding itself of the past reputation for political immaturity.

With quiet now becoming the rule rather than the exception, the smoke has cleared and anyone who cares to look can now see the real Romulus, the people.

That view isn't at all bad.

Editor's Log

What happened to fast-pitch?

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

This past weekend, I was again forced into a situation where it was necessary to over-exert myself in the name of resisting creeping 'old age'.

That occasion witnessed the family gathered around my backyard barbecue and the inevitable 'let's play ball' emanating from one of the younger set who was determined to show the world the feeble state I had slipped to.

Now, over the past years it has become a family tradition to get out the ball and bat for a friendly game at any and all such get-togethers. This would be no exception, but during the battle with the white sphere, my mind returned to yesteryear, scene of past glories and spectacular grabs.

In my youth, following the experience of recreation baseball in Dearborn, a group of fellows got together and decided to form a 'fast-pitch' softball team to compete in the Dearborn league.

Obviously because of my superb abilities, I was asked to join the team, and I quickly accepted.

My experience followed by about five years, Jim Bradley's. As you know, Jim is one of the staff writers for Associated Newspapers and a former ball star in his own light.

Since that time with my first 'fast-pitch' softball team, I have looked back with yearning for another opportunity to take to the field in a real contest between two teams in a fast-pitch league. But there are none.

It seems inconceivable to me that the sport witnessed by filled bleachers at the Dearborn fields could have vanished so completely from this area. What ever happened to fast-pitch, a game to equal baseball in all regards.

Standing on the third base line in the family field, I not so easily handled a sharp grounder to my left and proceeded to throw it completely over the head of the first baseman. I rationalized the miscue by reflecting on the sharp pain generated by my apparent broken thumb—victim of another ball game at a different place and different time.

Why is it, I thought, with the thousands of dollars being spent on city recreation programs, not a cent had been allocated for the folks who prefer fast-pitch.

Not to detract from slo-pitch, but there is really little spectator excitement generated by a high arching ball, usually belted by good and poor hitters alike. In place of the skill necessary to hit a ball moving at near 90-miles-per-hour as in fast-pitch, the major component of slo-pitch is the ability of one team to wear out the other's hitters.

Gone are the near no-hitters with the winner recording a 1-0 score. In its place we have the tension building 35-24 games with each team boasting of 800 batting averages.

Sure there is a place for slo-pitch, but there should also be a place for fast-pitch.

The trip to the ballpark to witness a fast-pitch contest under the lights, has been replaced by 'relatives only' interest in the current city recreation soft-ball programs.

Why? The smack of the bat against the ball brought me back to reality.

As I looked up and watched the ball arc into the new swimming pool for a ground rule out, I thought of the missed opportunity for my kids to possibly experience the thrill of watching a breaking curve cross the plate, or of playing on a team who just won a 'no-hitter'.

What can we lose with tax revolt?

To the Editor:

Politicians and other doomsdayers bemoaning our fate if the tax revolt spreads give me a pain. As do columnists making snide remarks about "kooky" Californians and their "crazy" politics.

One has only to drive Michigan streets to realize that all the "kooks" are not in California. As for "crazy" politics. What about the PBB fiasco? Or the fireworks ban that no one understood? Or allowing the 18-year-olds to drink? "Kooky" California still has the 21-year-old limit! What about the terrible no-fault insurance here? Or the white elephant called Pontiac Silverdome?

When Milliken mentions irresponsibility he ought to take a long look at the drunks, petty chislers and graft-takers liberally represented in the Legislature. Whose irresponsibility has made Michigan one of the highest taxed states in the Union! On a $50,000 home in California taxes were $963. On a $40,000 home here taxes are $1200!

Being a native Michigander whose last 17 years were spent in California I feel better qualified than Coleman Young (who admits he never even read Proposition 13), Milliken or others of his ilk to defend the tax revolt.

The homeowners had been getting it in the neck and pocket for years. The so-called tax revolt did not happen overnight.

For over 10 years the patient, long-suffering homeowners had pleaded with the politicians to stop the burgeoning public payrolls, cut expenses, stop wasting money. To no avail.

Finally the California homeowners acted. Bully for them. Let's hope the Michigan homeowners are as smart.

Having worked for a city government as well as the Federal government here, also the State of California and a large school district there, I have seen waste on all levels. I know there are too many civil servants.

Half of them don't work.

The whole idea of tax revolt is to cut waste. That means paring of padded payrolls, luxury cars, expense accounts, out-of-town trips and money allocated for countless committees for worthless surveys. It should mean guard dogs patrolling the schools before vandalism, not millions poured into repairs after.

In the school district where I worked, substitute teachers got $60 a day. To do what? Take the classes to the library and read magazines all day.

Substitutes were even called in for clerks and typists. Theft was unbelievable. Typewriters, calculators, adding machines, projectors, books, cameras even desks disappeared. At least dogs don't steal.

But no one worried, it was a big joke. Just increase the taxes and buy new and more expensive equipment. We have paid school taxes for over 40 years and never had a child in school. School taxes keep going up and the kids are coming out dumber than ever. This is education?

Public payrolls are atrocious and how much more rotten can services get?

I have tried for over two months to get an answer out of a petty local official regarding a sky-high water bill. Nothing.

What can we lose with a tax revolt? The public is fed to the teeth with fat-cat officials, shoddy service and horrendous tax bills.

For years the politicians' battle cry has been that if property taxes are lowered, income and sales taxes would go up. So what? At least that way everyone would pay a fair share. Not just one select group of suckers, the homeowner. Why should we be penalized for trying to own a house?

When all else fails the politicians yell "racism" or use blustery scare tactics. Well, let the heads roll and the ax fall where it may. The property owners are no longer willing to be the geese who lay the golden eggs for others to squander.

The time has come fellow property owners to stand up and be counted.

Dentistry Today Part III

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

There was a time, and it wasn't too long ago, when a trip to the dentist to have a tooth restored represented an unhappy experience.

With the advent of the high-speed drill, the development of better restorative materials, and the additional knowledge to which dentists have become privy, there is no longer any justification for a person not to take care of his teeth.

"Current knowledge," said Dr. Eichler, "tells us that except for a few isolated instances, there is no reason for someone to lose a permanent tooth."

"We are no longer in the business of extracting teeth just because those teeth have been allowed to suffer from an inordinate amount of decay."

He said that most people think of restorations only in the terms of the familiar silver filling—a restoration which is properly called an amalgam.

"Amalgam restorations are the least costly of the several materials available to the dentist. And, the cost-to-serviceable-lifespan ratio may be acceptable."

"However, when a tooth has suffered extensive decay, we feel that gold or a porcelain-fused restoration is a superior choice of material. In fact, if the damage is substantial, and depending upon the tooth involved, we hesitate to do an amalgam restoration," he said.

He said that using gold or porcelain was a case of using the proper tool for the proper job.

The only real objection which a patient could have to the use of gold would be cost. Yet, we know that gold is much more serviceable and has a longer lifespan than amalgam in badly broken down teeth.

"With the increase in dental insurance coverage offered by so many employers, the actual out-of-pocket cost to the patient is very low."

"If a patient can not afford gold restorations as a one-time payment, most dentists are willing to set up a deferred-payment arrangement with the patient."

For the past 15 to 20 years, a new therapy has been in the ascendancy: it's called root canal therapy.

"In the case of an abscess at the root of a tooth, we get a patient in the office who is suffering from intense pain which he mistakenly calls a toothache. By the time the abscess has formed, the nerve is already dead. The pain which the patient feels is pressure being exerted by the abscess on the fibres surrounding the tooth. The pressure can build up enough force actually to move the tooth and the pain will intensify."

"As a practitioner, I have a legal obligation to reduce the pain as quickly as possible. However, I also feel a strong moral obligation to the patient, and I will not remove that so-called aching tooth."

"I can drill a small hole into the tooth, through which the abscess material can escape."

The pressure is now off, and the pain will subside shortly.

"Unfortunately, there are still those people who insist that the tooth be removed. I understand that they are in extreme discomfort, and perhaps not as rational as they ordinarily would be. But, I do my best to convince such people that an extraction is an irreversible action. It just doesn't have to be done."

"After the abscess has been drained and proper medications ordered, we can easily proceed to complete the root canal."

The doctor explained that less than 50 percent of a tooth is visible to the eye—the major portion is in the gum attached to the bone by fibrous tissue. He said that even if the entire visible portion of the tooth has succumbed to decay, the tooth can still be restored.

"If there remains a healthy root integrated to healthy bone, root canal therapy can be accomplished," he said.

Root canal therapy is a procedure in which the now-empty canal (the canal used to contain the pulp or nerve) is cleaned out, rendered aseptic, and plugged with an appropriate material. A crown is constructed and then cemented to the remaining portion of the tooth.

Dr. Eichler said that once the tooth (or teeth in some instances) has been restored via root canal therapy, the patient has a permanent tooth which must be considered infinitely superior to removable dentures.

"By opting for root canal therapy," he said, "the patient will know that the restored tooth is solid and much more effective than any alternative such as dentures."

"When there are more teeth in the head, and the average adult has 32 permanent teeth, the chewing and swallowing forces are more evenly distributed. Additionally, the presence of a complete set of teeth means that teeth will not migrate or drift in the mouth. Drifting can lead ultimately to an improper bit (malocclusion) which in turn can lead to additional problems."

Next week, we'll write about some of those potential problems.

Senior's legislation understudy

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

Senior citizens' taxes, utility costs, volunteer services and recreation have all been under consideration in the Legislature this year.

One concern has been the state inheritance tax, which can be a financial blow to a surviving spouse.

A bill which moved through the Legislature and was just recently signed into law will take much of the sting out of the inheritance tax. It will exempt from the state inheritance tax the money a surviving spouse receives from a survivor's benefit plan, annuity retirement plan or pension, thus ending the former lump sum payment to the state.

Federal taxes will still have to be paid yearly, and state income taxes will be due if the benefits are more than $7,500 a year.

Many couples purchase survivor benefit insurance and annuities, or receive benefits from retirement plans and pensions, all of which are designed to guarantee that surviving spouses will receive income after the passing of their husbands or wives.

Since the federal government taxes proceeds from a survivor benefit plan as yearly income, it seemed unfair to also make the surviving spouse pay an additional lump sum inheritance tax on the entire benefit.

Survivor benefit plans do not keep pace with galloping inflation, let alone income taxes compounded by inheritance taxes.

While the new law will cost the state some money in tax revenues, this is far-outweighed by the need to protect small pensions from excessive taxation. It will clearly help the people who most need help in these inflationary times; the widow or widower who must depend upon a fixed income from a survivor benefit plan.

There had been an existing law allowing those senior citizens eligible for state tax credits to defer the payment of their summer property taxes until the following winter when they receive their rebate checks.

It had been the intent of the Legislature, in passing that law, that there be no interest or penalties on the delayed tax payments. However, it has been reported that some local units of government are assessing penalties and interest on the deferred payments.

In order to clarify this situation, the Legislature passed a follow-up bill, recently signed into law, that there be no penalties or interest attached to the deferred summer taxes if they are paid by February 15. If they are not paid by that due date, there could be penalties or interest, but only from February 15 on.

Rising home heating costs are a particular burden for retirees, who often have trouble fitting rising utility expenses into their limited fixed incomes.

The Legislature late last year approved a system of grants to assist senior citizens and others with low incomes in paying for their home heating costs for the winter. This was an emergency program for last winter only.

The deadline for applying for these grants, which were paid directly to the home heating supplier was April 30. Unfortunately, many eligible persons did not apply for the assistance, which could be as much as $200. The Legislature, therefore, took action to extend the deadline to August 31.

Information on these grants can be obtained from local offices of the Department of Social Services.

Meanwhile, the House has approved a bill to establish a permanent and less complex system of utility cost assistance for those with household incomes of less than $10,000 a year. The plan would be especially beneficial for retirees.

The bill, which is under Senate consideration, would use a state tax rebate system to provide for utility cost relief. Patterned after the existing property tax credit program, the amount of the utility aid would be based on income and the number of dependents in the household.

A person would be able to apply for the rebate when filing the state income tax form, or on a special form. Senior citizens and disabled persons would get larger grants than other eligible for the program because of their larger tax exemptions.

There are many retired persons who would like to use their abilities, experience and free time in volunteer services for others, but often do not know how to go about doing so.

In order to assist these people, new law has been enacted giving the State Office of Services to the Aging the responsibility of developing and coordinating retired senior citizen volunteer programs, as well as to administer employment programs for older people.

Such programs could include tutoring, nursing home or hospital work, transportation services or foster grandparent programs, to mention just a few ways that retirees could use their time, experience and wisdom to aid others.

The House has approved another bill which would give publicly-owned golf courses clear legal authority to offer reduced fees for senior citizens, as long as the reduced rates do not violate any bonding agreements.

The lower fees would be a consideration for senior citizens, whose leisure time is usually great but whose income is usually small. The bill is in the Senate.

Sex education in school

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

Everybody is talking about sex education in schools. Most educators feel the time has come when the little ones should learn about the birds and bees right along with their three R's.

I, for one, really don't care. If the schools want to teach my kids the scientific terms I'm happy to let them. Although I'm firmly convinced that the essence of sex education can only be learned at home, right in their own backyard, so to speak.

I think most parents get too tensed up when they start dealing with sex and their kids. And after living with six of them I'm convinced that kids aren't nearly as interested in sex as everybody thinks they are.

I've seen mothers get hysterical just because their little kid has an itch somewhere and she starts slapping his hand and telling him what a naughty kid he is. This must really be confusing to the little fellow. Then there's the mother who reads everything she can on teaching her kids about sex—properly.

One hot summer day several years ago my little five-year old boy came panting into the house. Grabbing an apple, he hoisted himself up on the sink and there he sat chomping away while he told me that Mrs. B. next door wanted him to come over and watch her bathe the new baby girl at 10 o'clock the next morning.

Telling the kid that sitting on the sink wasn't exactly the same as washing the apple I asked him if the baby-bathing was a party, or something?

"She'll probably give us something to eat afterwards," he said.

The next morning found him watching the new baby being bathed...but there wasn't any food.

Only then did it occur to me that Mrs. B. was undoubtedly trying to tell my kid something. So I went over to find out and also to let her know that messages have a difficult time getting through my kid's little pointed head.

I was right. Mrs. B. had suggested the babygirl watching bit after she caught my little kid lifting the skirt of her five year old.

"It's obvious he's wanting to know the difference between boys and girls, and we would be remiss in not helping to satisfy that curiosity, properly," she said.

"Oh, you're so right," I said as I went home and followed happy shrieking to the bathroom where my boy was happily playing with boats in the bathtub. His little sister was happily playing with his boats, too, in the same tub. Their clothes were out in the hall.

"Honey, I said as I plopped down beside the tub. "Do you remember lifting Sally's skirt yesterday?"

"Yep," he said as he poured a boat full of water over his little sister.

"Why?" I asked gently.

"Cause she said she had her bathing suit on under her dress," he said. And then he poured another boatful of water right over his little sister's tummy.

From the State Senate

Public health code
a triumph for state

The Majority Leader
State Senator William Faust
13th District

Michigan is on the verge of enacting one of the most modern and updated set of statutes in the country to deal with Public Health. With recent passage by the Senate of the major 460 page Public Health Code bill, our state moved closer to better care in preventing sickness and greater efficiency in the use of health resources.

The bill is a triumph with its consolidation, classification, streamlining, and revision of state public health laws. It is the result of four years' work and the input of dozens of health care organizations. This Public Health Code legislation brings together all health related acts such as health organizations, facilities, licensing, and regulation of professions and state and local health agencies.

All that remains before final passage is the ironing out of differences between the House and Senate followed by the Governor's signature. Once approved by the Legislature and signed by the Governor, the code goes into effect April 1979.

The major differences between the Senate and House versions concerns a marijuana provision and hospital beds. The Senate is in favor of easing penalties for possession of small amounts of marijuana while the House is opposed to that amendment. The Senate also inserted a provision designed to cut health costs by reducing the number of empty hospital beds. That provision is not especially favored by the House.

There will be more certificates-of-need under the new health code once approved. If a hospital is overbedded and cannot justify the number of beds through its long-range plans or prove it's providing efficient treatment, it will have to reduce the number. Likewise, to eliminate duplication of services and testing, any laboratory equipment costing over $250,000 to be used by hospitals or private labs would require a certificate of need to be purchased.

The measure is not without some sensitive areas of concern to all parties. The more delicate provisions require abortions to be reported to the State Health Department, although the women's identity would be kept confidential and fetal research would be restricted or banned in some cases.

Licensing of health professionals will be better under the new public health code. Psychologists must be licensed by the State Department of Public Health for the first time. Other health professionals needing to be licensed include dentistry, medicine, osteopathic medicine and surgery, podiatric medicine and surgery, nursing, veterinary medicine, optometry, pharmacy practice, drug control and physical therapy. Those professions will be supervised by boards established for their regulation and licensing.

Chiropractors will also have to be licensed. However, their practices can be expanded under the new measure to allow them to diagnose problems, give nutritional advice and prescribe rehabilitation exercises.

Health facilities and agencies will also now be certified under the new bill. The measure establishes an advisory commission on licensure and certification for that purpose.

Generally the bill provides basic authority for the State Department of Public Health including the appointment and qualifications of the state director of public health and a public health advisory council. Responsibilities and general powers are detailed in the legislation. General powers include enforcement of public health laws, collection of statistics and research programs and assistance to local health departments with their programs.

I am proud of this mammoth achievement accomplished by the Michigan Legislature. It has been designed to ensure adequate health care for all Michigan citizens while curbing the soaring health costs. Every Michigan citizen now has a "bill of rights" to protect him/her during illness and/or injury. We have set the example for the rest of the country on Public Health.

printed

Area golfers—from beginners to pros—will enjoy the new guidebook, "Golf Courses in Southeast Michigan". This colorful brochure, a complete guide to public courses in the nine-county southeast Michigan region, is available free from Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association.

Whether you tote your clubs down to Belle Isle just minutes from downtown Detroit, or head out to a countryside course in one of the outlying counties, the guidebook makes it easy to locate a public course fit for your pleasure.

Besides containing a directory of golf courses, the brochure also includes tips from area golf personalities on selecting equipment, etiquette and some of the uniquely designed public courses in our area. A center map pinpoints the location of each course and a personal record chart gives you the chance to record your scores all season long.

For a free copy of "Golf Courses in Southeast Michigan" write Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association, 350 American Center, Southfield 48034.

The Garden Doctor says...

This week the Garden Doctor talks about:

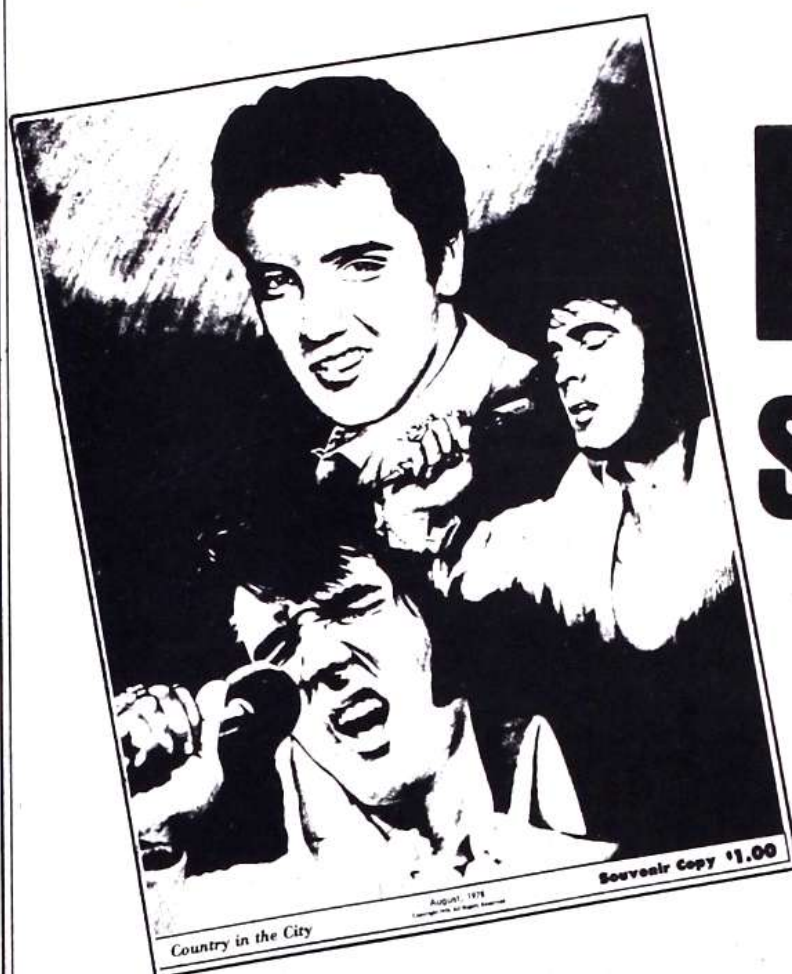

Q: Our squash vines have wilted and died recently. They were doing beautifully up until a week ago. What is wrong?

A: Squash are now being plagued by vine borers, which give this type of symptom. Check the stem near ground level of any plants that remain alive. Look for a small hole in the stem near ground level with exudate coming from it. This confirms that a vine borer has entered the stem and is feeding.

The best control is prevention by using Sevin or Malathion at the base of squash plants so adults will be deterred from laying eggs. After the boring worm is in the stem, making a slash in the vine may be useful to kill the worm but, of course, you will injure the vine too.

Q: Why do so many lawns look brown now?

A: Most of those brown lawns are suffering from drought. A thorough watering to a depth of six inches at least once per week is recommended. In compacted soils aeration might be necessary to assist in water penetration. A small zone can be aerated using a pitch fork. Large areas can be aerated by a mechanical spiking or coring machine.

In the armed forces

3 join in 'Cleanex'

Three area residents recently were involved in exercise "Varsity Cleanex" off the southern California coast.

Involved in the military exercise, designed to provide essential Navy and Marine Corps joint training in amphibious operations, were Marine Pfc. Anthony D. McDowell, the son of Donna M. McDowell of Hemlock, Carleton; Marine Pfc. Raymond B. Burke, the son of Raymond and Margie Burke of Hull Road, Belleville; and Marine Lance Cpl. Steve C. Kirkendoll, the son of James and Hattie Kirkendoll of Wear Road, Belleville.

More than 17,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel participated in the 11-day exercise, which included 24 ships and approximately 250 aircraft. The exercise culminated with an amphibious assault at the Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, Kirkendoll joined the Marine Corps in August 1976. He is assigned to the 1st Supply Battalion, 1st Force Service Support Group, based at Camp Pendleton.

McDowell, who is assigned to the 1st Battalion, First Marines, based at Camp Pendleton, joined the Marine Corps in August 1977.

Also in the armed forces: Richard Lee Newberry Jr., who joined the U.S. Army in October 1977, recently was promoted to the rank of private E-2.

Pvt. Newberry completed six months of training at the U.S. Army's Missile and Munitions School at Red Stone Arsenal in Alabama July 6.

After a two-week leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Newberry of Malcolm Drive, Romulus, he was re-assigned to two years of active duty at O'Brien Army Base in Nuremberg, Germany.

During his stint in Germany he will be visiting several countries to repair and test fire the chaparral missile.

Pvt. Newberry was a 1977 honor graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

An official at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., has announced the graduation of Airman Craig S. Adams from the U.S. Air Force's aircraft ground equipment repairman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

Airman Adams, the son of Mrs. Marleen M. Adams of Taft Avenue, Romulus, now is trained to repair generators, gas turbines and hydraulic pumping equipment, and will serve at George Air Force Base, Calif. Completion of the course earned him individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman is a 1977 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Donald M. Falzone, the son of Michael J. Falzone of Willow Road, New Boston, has completed the Aviation Electrician's Mate Course.

The 11-week course was conducted at the Naval Air Technical Center, Millington, Tenn. The concentrated training program is designed to provide an introductory understanding of electrical theory and circuitry, and serves to prepare trainees to perform basic electrical maintenance on jet aircraft.

Students received classroom instruction on, and studied the operating procedures for, electrohydraulic and automatic flight control systems, plus power generation and distribution systems.

He joined the Marine Corps in March 1978.

Airman Ronald L. O'Dell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie D. O'Dell of Harrison Road, Romulus, has graduated at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for aircraft ground equipment repairmen.

Airman O'Dell, now trained to repair generators, gas turbines and hydraulic pumping equipment, is being assigned to George Air Force Base, Calif., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Completion of the course earned him individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Carol A. Fischer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Fischer Jr. of Dru Avenue, Romulus, has been selected for technical training at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., in the Air Force avionics systems field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., and studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned her individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Fischer is a 1976 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Meet at the nature center building for this 1 1/2-hour program led by naturalist Bob Hotaling. Registration is required.

Back then nobody had heard of EEE Award homes.

At one time, when they built a house, one of its best features was a big front porch. And the most popular thing a porch could have was a wide, wooden swing.

Nowadays, the most important feature a house can have is energy efficiency because people are very concerned about keeping heating and cooling costs down.

That's why Detroit Edison presents its Energy Efficiency Excellence (EEE) Award to builders whose homes meet maximum standards in energy efficiency. EEE Award homes are properly insulated and are heated and cooled with an energy-saving heat pump, and could save you more than $260 a year in energy costs compared to homes using oil, propane or electric resistance heating.

Major appliances like refrigerators and freezers in EEE Award homes, if provided by the builder, are also energy efficient. Of course, it's important to use and maintain all major appliances properly so they don't waste energy.

If you'd like to visit an EEE Award home, call or stop in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office and ask for the names of builders who have EEE Award homes on display.

Save where it really counts. The power is in your hands.

Kelley attacks rate hike

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley said he is both dismayed and disappointed by the $39.8 million rate hike approved for Consumers Power by the Public Service Commission.

"Forty million sounds like a small amount compared to the $164 million the company initially requested," Kelley said. "But coupled with the $15.2 million interim rate, Consumers got a $55 million increase."

"But I think that is excessive in light of the utility's financial picture — the best in company history. I think the customers — not the utility are overburdened."

Insisting that Consumers' rates should be cut, not increased, the Attorney General noted that:

- Per share earnings for Consumers in 1976 were the highest in history, more than 21 percent above the previous record.

— Consumers' financial condition in 1977 was so good that dividends for stockholders were increased by six percent.

— Short-term cash investments for the utility so far in 1978 — investments that were nonexistent two years ago — surpassed $200 million.

— Public Service Commission staff members recommended a $12.6 million increase for Consumers. The $55 million hike approved is more than four times the increase recommended by Public Service Commission personnel.

"As a result of the Public Service Commission's action today, return on common equity for Consumers will increase from 12.75 percent to 13.5 percent," Kelley said. "I don't believe the Public Service Commission should be guaranteeing that kind of excessive return to a monopoly like Consumers Power."

The Attorney General said he will review the Public Service Commission's latest decision before deciding whether or not he will appeal it in Circuit Court.

Of 'Big Apple'

Tour takes in east and west sides

They say the neon lights are bright on Broadway, Chinatown is your Chinatown, and east side, side, west side, all around the town is beautiful during autumn in New York City.

See for yourself on the Associated Newspapers-sponsored annual New York Weekend Oct. 13, 14 and 15. For a total cost of $260 per person, 50 adventurers will fly to the Big Apple for two nights at the Abbey-Victoria Hotel and three days on the sidewalks of New York.

Included in the group get-away are guided tours of the Bowery, Wall Street, the garment district, the United Nations Building and a special trip to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., along the autumn-painted Hudson River.

A Saturday night musical and posh dinner also are planned.

For further information and reservations contact Gene Wertz at Associated Newspapers at 729-4000, during business hours.

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

One of the amazing things about musical instruments is their simplicity. Looking at a piano, for example, one might think it very complicated with all those strings, pedals, and keys, but the actual principle behind the musical production in a piano is fairly simple. The sound is actually produced by the vibration of strings. With a clarinet, the sound is produced by the vibration of strings. With a clarinet, the sound is produced by the vibration of air. These sounds are all produced mechanically. Electricity is not really needed for even the most sophisticated music.

If you are in the market for a piano or organ head for DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 where you will find some of the most sophisticated instruments available. Watch for our occasional specials. At DOUG BROWN MUSIC you will also find all kinds of sheet music and books. Master Charge and Visa honored.

HELPFUL HINT:
Recorders are fairly simple to play and make good gifts.

Harold Rediske
UHT Memorial Funeral Home

HAROLD REDISKE JR.

WHAT IS A FUNERAL TRUST FUND?

It is an interest-bearing fund set aside at a bank or S&L for use specifically to pay for funeral and burial expenses for one or more members of your family. It is an investment, too, since it earns interest and acts as a hedge against continued inflation.

As the fund grows, with its interest accumulating, it may even provide MORE than the amount you have pre-arranged to pay for funeral expenses. This depends on factors such as the rate of interest paid, items and services to be covered, and how great was the inflationary effect during the duration of the funding. Most states have laws governing the pre-financing of funerals and burial expenses. We are experienced in handling these matters, having conducted many such arrangements. We can advise and assist you in setting up a Funeral Trust Fund for you and your family. You might want to stop by and discuss this in full detail.

Family get-togethers are summer highlight

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of West Columbia Avenue spent a recent weekend near Gary, Ind. as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Porter, former Belleville residents. On Sunday morning they attended the Ogden Dunes Community Church where their niece, Susan Stinson, was soloist.

The remainder of the day was spent at the lakeside home of Fred and Susan Stimson with 29 members of the Wilber Savage family, guests being present from Belleville, Berrien Springs, New Boston and Springfield, Ill. A bountiful dinner and swimming were enjoyed even though the weather was overcast.

Mrs. Norman Miller of Second Street spent the weekend in Ann Arbor visiting her daughter, Mrs. Aileen Mengel.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Johnson were visiting in Hartley, Ky. recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Johnson. They also were in Nashville, Tenn. to visit the Grand Ole Opry before continuing onto North Carolina where they toured the Cherokee Village. The Johnsons report having a great time during their 2-weeks of traveling.

Mrs. Julia Hopson of Belleville

Road recently returned from a weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson at their cottage on Mercury Lake in the Irish Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Marshall, former Potter Drive residents now living in Fenton, are the proud parents of an 8 lb.-6 oz. baby boy born July 31 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The newcomer has a big brother at home, 6-year-old Eric.

Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street and Mrs. Lena Benjamin of Fowlerville returned home Tuesday after spending several days visiting relatives and friends at Lake George and Rennie Lake near Traverse City.

Mrs. Blanche Atyeo of Church Street and daughters, Mrs. Henry Nichols of Allen Park and Mrs. Ted Lent-Koop of Dearborn, visited Port Huron, Harbor Beach and Port Austin over the weekend. Their niece, June Thiele from Tuscon, Ariz., accompanied them.

Mrs. Mary Mumford of Fret Road returned last weekend from Spokane, Wash. where she was the houseguest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Halverson, for three weeks. While there they all enjoyed a 2-day trip to Glacier National Park in Montana enjoying the beautiful scenery and weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arndt of Bellaire visited Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fulton of Willis Road and other relatives in the Belleville area last weekend. The Fultons and Arndts attended a family reunion in Northville on Saturday at the home of Bob's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Elwell.

From Tuesday until Friday, Mrs. Joyce Peterson of Denver, Colo. was the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of West Columbia Avenue. Mrs. Peterson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Romine of Ft. Wayne, Ind.

On Friday Miss Joyce Savage of Salem, Ore. was a dinner guest. She was enroute to her high school class reunion in Hillsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arndt of Bellaire visited Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fulton of Willis Road and other relatives in the Belleville area last weekend. The Fultons and Arndts attended a family reunion in Northville on Saturday at the home of Bob's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Elwell.

Mrs. Irene Ross of Liberty Street is convalescing at home from recent eye surgery at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Ruth Davis of Denton Road and her mother, Mrs. Alice Jurn, motored to Wheaton, Md. to visit the former's son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Craig W. Davis. They also enjoyed traveling along the Skyline Drive at Charlotte, Va. and saw the home of Thomas Jefferson during their 10-day vacation.

Family, friends enjoy Moore's trail-picnic day

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

The family gravel pit on Henry Ruff Road in Romulus was the site used by the Moores for the family picnic and Romulus Horseman's Association trail ride on Sunday, July 30. Over 26 horsemen and families met under sunny skies to ride, fish and eat together.

The Moore clan spent many an hour blazing and marking miles of foot and horseback trails which provided several hours of excellent riding and hiking for their guests. The Mallard ducks and geese swimming on the secluded lake added a scenic touch for horsemen enjoying beach riding.

Having worked up a healthy appetite, the nature-trailers returned to a feast of ham, potato salad, baked beans and beer and pop to wash it all down — again supplied by the Moore family.

Taking part in the fun-filled day were the Charlie Ball and Calvin Adams families; Charlotte and Sharon McBride; Pat and Jack Coleman, Alyce and Jim Brown, the Rich Le Blancs, Bonnie Le Blanc, Betty Baschal, Sandy Gehringer, Andy Anderson, and the James Moore and Leonard Moore families. 'Twas a day to remember.

Pam receives law post

A 1971 graduate of Belleville High School, Pamela Ann Miller, has accepted a position in the legal department of the General Electric Headquarters in Fairfield, Conn.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald G. Miller of Stanley Drive, Belleville, she earned her bachelor of arts degree in pre-law from Michigan State University in 1975. A member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Phi Kappa Phi national honor societies, she was elected to the Epsilon Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Her post graduate work was done at the University of Michigan Law School where she received her law degree.

Out-state guests entertained

Recent houseguests at the Romulus home of Jay and Ellen Richards were taken on a whirlwind tour of the area during their brief 4-day stay. Arriving July 20 at Metro Airport, Don and Carolyn Mundy of Washington, D. C. combined his business trip to Troy with a short get-together with their former University of Michigan classmates.

Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum were on the agenda followed by dinner at Dearborn Inn on Friday; a cocktail party reunion with other U-M friends at the Richardses apartment was the Saturday evening event after a visit to the Renaissance Center in Detroit; with brunch at the Hyatt Regency on Sunday capping their stay.

Clan marks 105th reunion

The "clan Riggs" marked 105 years of reunions Sunday, July 30, at Victory Park in Belleville. Close to 50 relatives drove in from Pottersville, Inkster, Detroit, Farmington Hills, Northville, Ypsilanti, Willis and Belleville.

A co-op picnic dinner was followed by a short meeting conducted by Keith Wright of Northville, co-president, and Pat Flavell Tator, secretary-treasurer, of Belleville.

Ninety-four-year-old Helen (Nellie) Riggs of Pottersville was the eldest attending while her 5-year-old great-grandson, Jimmie Watson, was youngest. The young man is the grandson of Alice Riggs Herkimer of Belleville.

Fourteen candles for Lisa

Lisa Hamilton, who was 14-years-old last Friday, had her birthday celebration moved up one day and shared it with relatives who'd been invited to dinner at seven o'clock.

On hand for the party hosted by her parents, the R. Lynne Hamiltons of East Huron River Drive, were her grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Hamilton and other Bellevillites, Bob and Pat Tator and Jean Flavell.

Still others attending were Harold and Edrhe Smith of Wayne; the William Smiths of Denton; Richard, Debbie and little Amy Flavell of Ypsilanti; and Lisa's brother, Dave.

Mark Andrew to carry on Lunde name

Mark Andrew Lunde, who put in his appearance on July 24, has the distinction of being the first member of the fourth generation of the Lunde family. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Lunde of Canton, he arrived at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor at 8:57 p.m. and weighed in at 5 lbs. - 13 ozs.

Giving their mother a helping hand with the new baby are his big sisters, Amy, who's nine, and Jo, three.

Mrs. Lunde is the former Leona Thom, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thom of Belleville. Claiming honors on the paternal side of the family are Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Lunde of Livonia and a pair of very proud great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Lunde of Belleville.

Peach pie Chantilly

A pie that's a perfect choice for a special occasion — fresh ripe sliced peaches folded into prepared whipped topping. It's simple, but unique because of a hidden baked pastry round between two layers of filling. (Photo courtesy Dream Whip whipped topping mix.)

For your recipe file

Chantilly — a peach of a pie

Peaches have been around for quite a while — the famous 18th century American naturalist, William Bartram, found them during his travels through the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida. He described the peach trees as "loaded with fruit...affording a very acceptable dessert after the heats and toil of the day." Well, it's likely that you get most of your peaches from the market or produce stands, but you can enjoy a very acceptable dessert of them anyway.

In selecting peaches, be sure you choose ones with a blush of color and those which yield to the gentle pressure of the hand. Once home, store them in a cool place and wash just before serving or using.

For a more than "acceptable" dessert — one that's fit for a special occasion — you might want to try Peach Pie Chantilly. The filling is unique, but simple to make by folding sweetened sliced peaches into fluffy, light prepared Dream Whip whipped topping. And there's one more unique quality to this recipe — a round of baked pastry is placed between two layers of the filling.

Peach Pie Chantilly

Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
2 cups sliced fresh peaches
1/4 cup sugar
1 envelope whipped topping mix
1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Roll out half of pastry very thin (less than 1/8 inch thick). Line 9-inch pie pan; trim or flute edge. Roll out remaining pastry very thin and cut an 8-inch round; place on ungreased baking sheet. Thoroughly prick pie shell and pastry round with fork. Bake pie shell and the pastry round at 425 degrees for 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool thoroughly.

Sprinkle peaches with sugar and let stand about 30 minutes. Prepare whipped topping mix as directed on package, substituting almond extract for the vanilla. Fold in sweetened peaches and spoon half the mixture into the pie shell. Place pastry round on filling and top with remaining peach mixture. Chill at least 2 hours.

Eye exams recommended if —

Can you tell if you need an eye examination?

You bet you can, according to the Guild of Prescription Opticians of American, Inc., which says that anyone of 11 danger signals can warn you that a complete eye examination is needed.

Here are the signals:

1. Continuing pain or discomfort.
2. Loss of side vision.
3. Persistent redness of the eye.

4. Rainbow halos around lights or foggy vision.

5. Sudden appearance of floating spots.

6. Growths on eyelids or eye.

7. Persistent discharge or crusting.

8. Crossing of eyes, especially in children.

9. Nearsightedness or farsightedness.

10. Distorted shape or pupils of unequal size.

11. Constant double vision.

The Guild cautioned that if in doubt, visit your eye physician anyway because statistics prove that the blind population in America is increasing at a faster pace than the general population.

A recent survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion showed that next to cancer, Americans fear blindness more than any other disease.

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines.

The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal.

Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

It's a girl for the Max Harnischs

The birth of Melissa Sue Harnisch made instant great-grandparents of Mr. and Mrs. Max Harnisch Sr. of Bohn Road, Belleville. Grandparent titles went to other Bellevillites, Mrs. Max Harnisch of Martinsville Road, Max Harnisch II of Bohn Road, and Mrs. Florence Johnson of Haggerty Road. The proud new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Harnisch III of Bohn Road, Belleville, welcomed their first child at 10:53 p.m. July 28 at Wayne County General Hospital. The 8 lb., 11 oz. newborn's mother is the former Pat Yount.

Try zucchini

Stuffed, sauteed — easy recipes

A stuffed zucchini recipe which serves from 3 to 6 people plus an easy pan-fried concoction come from two different sources this week. The first is from an avid gardener whose family dotes on zucchini and who is always on the look-out for new ways to dress up "the stuff", she says. A resident of Van Buren Township, Eleanor Thompson, and Ceil Caravallah, whose husband Jim, was our Belleville reporter before he went into business with his dad, are this week's contributors to the zucchini treasure hunt.

Stuffed Zucchini

- 3 medium zucchini, unpeeled
- 2 tablespoons butter or oleo
- 1/4 pound chopped fresh mushrooms
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano
- 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese

Cook zucchini whole in boiling salted water, covered, for 10 to 12 minutes. Drain and cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out centers, leaving a 1/4-inch thick shell, and chop. In a skillet, melt butter; saute mushrooms, then stir in flour, salt and oregano. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese, sour cream and zucchini. Fill shells, using about 1/4 cup filling for each. Top with Parmesan cheese. Broil until hot and bubbly, 3 to 5 minutes. Serve two as a vegetable entree or one as an accompaniment to a meat dish. For 3 to 6 people.

Eleanor says the stuffed zucchini may be assembled in advance, covered and refrigerated. Then broil 5 to 7 minutes.

— From Eleanor Thompson

Zucchini Melange

- 2 medium zucchini
- 1 green pepper, cut in strips
- 2 tomatoes, cut up
- 1 onion, sliced

Saute all ingredients until squash is just tender. Add 1 teaspoon ginger and salt and pepper to taste. This may be boiled rather than sauted if you prefer your squash mushy.

— From Ceil Caravallah

Barbeque a beef tip roast

Summer has finally arrived and along with it comes the joy of backyard cookouts, picnics and family camping. All these occasions lend themselves well for favorite foods and treats from the grill. What could make a cookout more memorable than a beef tip roast turning on the rotisserie.

According to home economist Retha M. Hankey of the Michigan Beef Industry Commission, "the tip roast is an excellent choice for rotisserie roasting as its compact even shape is easy to balance on the rod and it will turn evenly and steadily. This roast is lean, boneless and practically waste free — another good reason for selecting it in these times of increased beef prices."

Brushing this roast with a barbecue sauce supplies a popular supplementary flavor. Rotisserie roasts may be brushed with sauce during the entire cooking period or only during the last half hour or so.

"The ingredients of the sauce determine the best time to start basting," Hankey said. Less sweet sauces can be used during the entire roasting time while sauces high in sugar should be saved to the end so too much browning doesn't occur.

The method for preparing a tip rotisserie roast is very simple. Select a 4- to 6-pound beef tip roast, tied. Insert rotisserie rod lengthwise through center of the roast but not resting in fat or on rotisserie rod. Place on rotisserie and roast at moderate temperature until meat thermometer registers 130 degrees. Continue roasting, brushing frequently with barbecue sauce to desired degree of doneness — about 140 to 160 degrees. When thermometer registers about 5 degrees below desired doneness, remove meat from rotisserie and allow to stand 10 to 15 minutes before carving into thin slices.

If the roast has been tied with string, either by the butcher or chef, make sure it's removed before serving the meat at the table.

The raves you will get from family and friends for a rotisserie beef tip roast will amaze you.

He's called Jimmie Paul

The birth of their first child, a boy, is announced by Shirley and Jim Rich of 1035 Rowley Ct., Ypsilanti, formerly of Belleville.

Arriving at 3:10 p.m. July 28, the new heir was born at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

Titled "Jimmie Paul", he weighed in at 8 lbs., 6 ozs. and measured 20 1/2 inches.

He is the grandson of Russell Rich and Frank Ray of Ypsilanti and Mrs. Virginia Tyler and Ms. Ann Ray of Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. George Steger of Belleville and Mrs. Elsie Ray of Ann Arbor are claiming great-grandparent honors.

Jimmie is the second arrival in just four weeks to make a fourth generation on his mother's side.

Martha-Mary Chapel setting for Wilson-Whited ceremony

Martha-Mary Chapel, located in historic Greenfield Village, provided the setting for the July 7 nuptial of Cindy Whited of Westland and Mike Wilson of Livonia.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Whited of Treadwell, Westland, wore a floor-length gown of white qiana knit for the candlelight ceremony. The dress was accented by a mandarin collar, a lace and beaded bodice, long full sleeves with lace inserts. Her mantilla-style long veil was trimmed with matching lace, and her bouquet was of eucharis lilies and English ivy.

Officiating the ceremony was Dr. H.V. Whited of Pontiac, uncle of the bride. Music for the 7 p.m. ceremony was provided by the village organist on a pipe organ, with Val Jarrett of Wayne as the vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride asked Mrs. Gayle Cupit of Whitmore Lake, a college friend, to serve as her matron of honor. Her gown was of a peasant style in blue qiana knit. She wore a daisy and baby's breath in her hair and carried a basket of color coordinated daisies.

The bridesmaids were dressed in peasant-style gowns in rainbow colors. Their hair flowers and baskets were of coordinating colors. The bridesmaids were Bonnie Damask of Westland, who wore a light green-colored ensemble, Susan Peterson of Minneapolis, Minn., who wore a yellow-colored ensemble, and Brenda Dingman of Ypsilanti, who wore peach.

The flower girl, in a matching pink outfit, was Aimee Russell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Russell of Canton Township. The ringbearer was Brion Dingman, nephew of the groom and the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dingman of Ypsilanti.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McHugh of Michigan Avenue, Canton Township asked Paul Friebe of Livonia to act as his best man. The groomsmen were Joe Files of Canton Township, Gary Whited, brother of the bride, of Westland, and David Dingman, brother-in-law of the groom, of Ypsilanti. The ushers were Larry Russell of Canton Township and Felice.

For the early evening ceremony, Mrs. Whited chose a floor-length gown of soft turquoise qiana knit. Her corsage was of eucharis lilies and baby's breath.

Mrs. McHugh's floor-length gown was a coral color, with a chiffon cape. She wore a cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception for the newlyweds, and their 250 guests given by the bride's parents was held at Vladimir's in Farmington. The guest book was handled by Lynda and Lori McHargue of Monroe, cousins of the bride.

The couple's wedding cake fountain was decorated with fresh multicolored daisies. Its glass top was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. V. Gordon of Romulus.

The rehearsal dinner, given for the wedding party by the parents, was held at the Roman Forum Restaurant in Canton Township.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Toronto, Ont., Canada, for one week before returning to the Western Wayne County. They expect to reside in Westland.

The new Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and is employed as a physical education teacher at Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti.

Her husband is an employee of GM's Hydra-Matic Division at Willow Run.

MR. AND MRS. MIKE WILSON

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Anyone interested in a 1977 commemorative Christmas spoon? I have THREE of 'em and the unsolicited excess is what prompts the lead in this week's "potpourri" column.

Spotting an advertisement for the spoons last October (they came in cute little red Christmas stockings) I decided they'd make ideal stocking stuffers for my trio. (Yep, we still get a kick out of our stockings.) So-called the toll free number and ordered four, one for me as well, and charged them on my VISA account.

As I mentioned, that was in early October. December 1 rolled around, then the 15th and I decided it was time to check out that outfit. So, again, I rang the 800 digits and was told, "Sorry, we only take the orders. Any follow-ups have to be made directly with the company."

Well, I didn't follow up due to the holiday rush and forgetting (a strange malady that seems to have afflicted me.) A week later, tho, (December 22 to be exact) when I'd already substituted other items for the $3.95 spoons, lo and behold, they arrived. Oh well, so the girls got a bit too much, so what?

BUT—come Jan. 4, 1978, what should arrive via the mails but a SECOND order of the silver, also charged to my VISA plate. When the bill came, sure enough, the duplication was also on my statement. Called a VISA office at once and was told that they could do nothing for me; to write to the silver company and have them make the refund.

Would you believe-four inquiries and a Contact 10 letter later, I STILL have heard NOTHING from the commemorative spoon rip-off association? Contact 10 didn't deem it worth their efforts to check on a mere $15.80 complaint either! The moral of my story is—don't order using a credit card; it's too convenient for companies to charge duplicate orders and get away with it!

Anyone interested in a 1977 commemorative Christmas spoon?

And while the subject of those little plastic gems is still warm, here's a didja-know. For instance, did you know that the average consumer packs an average of 5.2 credit cards? And, that businessmen, who use them the most, carry an average of 11.3?

It's mighty hard for those of us at this newspaper to believe that Doris Allard (our good friend at Glen Rotary in New Boston) is a GREAT-GRANDMOTHER! IT CAN'T BE; SHE'S TOO YOUNG!

But on checking out the "rumor" we found there's a wee new babe added to her family tree as of July 26. The little fella responsible for her new status quo is Ronald Kenneth Allard, the son of Ron and Darlene Allard of 107 Potter Drive, Belleville. Named for his dad and late paternal grandfather, the new heir decided that 7:09 a.m. was a good time to arrive at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti.

The seven pound-10 ounce is the grandson of Bill and Kea Rae Strubank of Ypsilanti and Carl and Barbara Brady of Belleville.

The new great-grandma used to have to put up with Bert Osterberg, Henry Cantin and me when we had our paper printed in the office which she managed. Congrats, Doris, from us old proofreaders.

The above photo shows the family matriarch (D.A.) very seriously clutching her favorite doll. Today Doris is cuddling and lullabying a real live doll—her 2-weeks-old great-grandson.

Summertime... and the livin' is easy... (to be sung to the tune of "Summertime") and the livin' is fattening. Wow! Have you noticed what corn-on-the-cob and a few dishes of ice cream can do to you in these languid, steamy months?

Since one can take just so much tossed salad and chef salad, it's time to turn to the old fruit bowl and put together a really slimming meal, snack or side dish. But—IS it slenderizing?

Here are the calorie counts for the mainstays of a good fruit salad, so judge for yourself.

Watermelon—1 cup diced: 42; Cantaloupe—½ cup cubed: 24; Blueberries—½ cup: 45; Strawberries—1 cup: 53; Pineapple—½ cup: 41; Peaches—½ cup diced: 51; Bananas—1 cup sliced: 124.

Totalling it up, we have 380 calories and 5 cups of fruit. If you're really being a good dieter and restricting yourself to just one cup, then you've a mere 78 gremlins to contend with. 'Tain't bad and you just might treat yourself to a piece of nut bread or a few crackers since you're being so good.

Here's another quickie sauce for those of you who direct the chef detail in your kitchen. In lieu of the cream of celery, cream of mushroom or tomato soup I usually serve over salmon patties, I tossed together a few ingredients and came up with an easy topping.

For just two of us, I took a generous tablespoon of dairy sour cream, another of Miracle Whip, added a sprig of finely chopped fresh parsley and just barely warmed it all. Serving it over the already hot patties made it unnecessary to heat to the maximum.

In the event you're not a sour cream fan, use just the MW and perhaps thin it with a little milk or lemon juice. Since we've parsley in the garden, that's handy for me but if you like, add dill weed, chives or a bit of chopped greens from the top of scallions.

NIGGLY ANNOYANCES (time consuming ones): People in express lanes at food markets with WAY more than the specified "8" or "12" items. And—no one telling them otherwise.

And how about express lanes with no one manning them? If these irritating instances sound like a local supermarket chain, you were probably the other folks in line that were literally "steaming."

MINI-ENGLISH LESSON: If you have problems deciding on the use of "I" and "me" when referring to more than yourself, perhaps this will help. Dropping the other person in the sentence is the whole key to the use of those two pronouns.

Now here's a little test, underline one in each sentence. "John gave it to Mary and (I or me). John and (I or me) went to school." If you remembered to drop Mary in the first sentence, then you came up with ME since John did not give it to "I". And if you dropped John in the second instance, then you know that "I" went to school. ME went to school sounds pretty silly, doesn't it?

I really don't know if I helped you or merely confused you but this is the system I used in teaching my trio. And even knowing the "key" to this thing doesn't always make for 100 percent correct grammar—those prepositions like from, to, about, for, with, etc. are the little buggers that can confuse you.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Etiquette is the noise you don't make while eating soup.

Creative audio recording tech new WCC class

Washtenaw Community College is offering the state's only credit course in creative audio recording technology this fall.

Providing the basics of professional audio recording and automated recording systems, the new class will familiarize students with innovations in equipment, controls and techniques.

The seven week one credit hour course will be taught by audio technologist Stephen Pysz and will be offered at WCC on Monday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m. beginning Sept. 11.

MISS LOSHINSKIE

Vocal student returns from Interlochen

Carla J. Loshinskie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Loshinskie of 60 Montague, Belleville, recently returned from Interlochen Music Camp where she was part of the choir section from July 24 to Aug. 6.

Miss Loshinskie was recommended to the national music camp by Mrs. Louise Pitcher, vocal music teacher at Belleville High School, who pointed out that she is the first vocal music student from BHS ever to attend Interlochen.

Miss Loshinskie began her vocal music studies at Elwell Elementary School with Mrs. Melessa Costella as her teacher, continuing her vocal interest through junior and senior high school.

Daughter No. 3 added to family of Martin Rocks

"Jamie Louise" is the name chosen for the new daughter born July 24 to Martin K. and Donna M. Rock of 28461 Halecreek, Romulus. The 7 lb., 12 oz. infant, who measured 20 inches, arrived at 8:25 a.m. at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. She will have the full attention of two big sisters, Tanya Marie, who's 8-years-old and Martina Anne now that she and her mother have returned home.

The girls' grandparents are Mrs. Dorothy Rock of Pennsylvania and Mr. and Mrs. Don Merriman of Traverse City. Another Pennsylvanian, Mrs. Suzanne Pierce, is the proud great-grandmother.

THE DIET CORNER

By ELAINE JOSEPH
Director of The Diet Workshop

Why is a good diet like a good wife?

Because it inspires but never nags. Think about it. There may be a husband or two scattered around the face of the earth who adores the hen-pecking woman. Since mine is not one, I can't take it any further. Most men respond to inspiration and belief. That's how it is with dieters.

The nagging diet drives them into complete mutiny by the time the second week has passed. A diet should inspire the dieter to use foods properly in new combinations. A diet should inspire the dieter to make choices among several good selections.

The person who hands out diet advice must believe in the intelligence of the people who ask for advice. When a dieter tells me that he or she cannot stomach the idea of eating fish, I know that dictating fish meals with the promise of fast loss will result in a fast loss all right. A fast loss of my correspondent. What this diet needs is an explanation that fish does, indeed, speed the diet on its way. However, there are excellent substitutions for fish. A dieter eating white meat chicken or veal will lose as well.

Tyranny in politics or food cannot survive. Almost every human being revels in awakening each day to freedom of choice. For the dieter, that means choice of menu. This is why the program I succeeded with worked for me. I could exercise my prerogative to change my mind about an entrée when I felt like it. All I had to do was follow a skeleton outline. The four basic foods appeared and appear on my table with every meal. Only I choose which four for which meals. My dieter does not dictate to me.

A new favorite dinner dish I feel I simply must have from time to time is this:

Eggplant Shrimp Boats

12 oz. tomato juice
2 beef bouillon cubes
1 tsp. chopped chives
½ Tsp. sweet basil dash garlic salt
¼ tsp. oregano
4 oz. eggplant dash pepper
6 oz. frozen shrimp

Dissolve 2 beef bouillon cubes in tomato juice, add seasonings. Slice eggplant in thick half slices, add frozen shrimp and cook 15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle with parmesan cheese on top.

This is inspired cooking, blending together shrimp and vegetable into one hot savory dish for dinner. Now a diet that loves you is a diet that will do this for you.

It is also inspired dieting. And I hope that it has inspired you as well to search out the eggplant and shrimp the next time you go a'marketing. Remember, you don't HAVE TO. No one's nagging. I'm only here to show you the alternatives.

Toes need tone-up

Besides toning up your body for summer bikinis and trying out the great new makeup shades, keep in mind that this year feet will have to measure up, too.

With this season's new fashion emphasis on high-laced, open style sandals, your feet have to look better than ever.

But never fear, even if you've been neglecting foot care for some time, a good pedicure can work wonders. You can easily give yourself a professional-looking one in less than an hour. The few implements you'll need are right in your manicure kit, with perhaps the addition of a pair of toenail clippers, and the proper skin creams.

A bubble bath is a luxurious way to start, and since you'll need to soak your feet in warm soapy water, you may as well soak the rest of you too.

When you emerge, dry your feet well and take a good, critical look at them. For that hardened, rough or flaky skin around the heels and ankles, you'll need more than a standard softener. A good rough-skin-remover, that will actually remove dead or calloused skin, exposing the newer, younger skin underneath, is in order. (If you have corns or callouses which have not responded readily to home remedies, they should be treated by a good podiatrist.)

Cut or clip nails straight across, then file for smoothness. Do not attempt cutting an oval shape as you would with your fingernails, since this might tend to cause in-grown toenails.

Apply a cuticle softening cream and push back your cuticles with an orange stick wrapped in cotton.

Brush on a base coat for smoothness and nail protection, then apply polish in one of the great new color shades. Use three strokes — down the center of the nail first, then down each side. Or if you'd rather, instead of polish try buffing. Dab a small amount of buffing polish near the cuticle, then bring out the natural gloss with a chamois-covered buffer. Buff in one direction about 10 or 12 strokes.

You'll be off to a good start, and a good pedicure should last a week or more. To make sure your feet stay as pretty as the rest of you, here are a few basic suggestions:

— For swollen feet, a foot bath containing a few spoonfuls of epsom salts is refreshing.

— If foot perspiration and odor is a problem, excessive moisture is usually the cause. Wet shoes or boots should be allowed to dry in circulating air rather than a stuffy closet; padding shoes with newspaper also speeds the process. In hot weather your feet will perspire, which is why sandals are such a perfect summer choice because they allow perspiration to evaporate easily.

If you do wear closed shoes in hot weather, wearing stockings is a good idea, as well as alternating shoes every other day. Foot spray is a delightful freshener; you can keep a can in your car's glove compartment or in your office drawer for a quick pick-me-up. Witch hazel splashed on after a bath, or just anytime, also feels great.

— Try to buy shoes in the afternoon, when possible, since your feet expand with the activity and weight-bearing of the day. When you're measured, stand with your full weight to make sure that you get a proper fit. Shoes that constrict the foot may cause corns or callouses; if they're too loose, painful blisters may result. Watch carefully for bunched stitching on the undersides of the shoe — this can rub against your skin and cause chafing.

To get a head start on your summer tan, try one of the great new bronzing lotions on your feet and legs. These apply in a flash and wash off with soap and water just like regular makeup, and most are guaranteed not to stain clothes. There are also the lotions that tan you with or without the sun, which are basically a stain and provide moisturizing benefits as well.

If you polish your toenails, choose one of the clear corals, ripe reds or blushing pinks that are new for summer. Now that your feet are looking their best...make the most of them!

Extension garden tips

1. My African violets have patches of white mold on the leaves. How should I get rid of it?

If the mold looks like bits of cotton and feels like cotton candy you are probably seeing the egg sacs of mealy bugs. They can be controlled by using apyethrum spray or, if only a few are in evidence, touch each of them with a bit of cotton dipped in rubbing alcohol. White mold may grow on the soil and is indicative of too much moisture. Skim it off and allow the soil surface to dry between waterings.

2. What varieties of tomatoes are good producers in Michigan? For early tomatoes try New Yorkers, Springset, or Red Pak. For midseason choose Setmore, Jetstar, Campbell 1327 or Heinz. For a late crop Supersonic, Burpee or Manalucie have been rated high. Most of these are resistant to both Fusarium and Verticillium wilts.

3. I have tried re-seeding dead patches in the lawn many times before but seldom successfully. What is going wrong?

3. I have tried re-seeding dead patches in the lawn many times before but seldom successfully. What is going wrong? There are several possibilities. First, the seeds must be in close contact with the soil. That means thatch must be completely raked away. It's hard to distinguish soil from thatch by visual observations. Feel the soil to be certain the thatch is completely removed. Then roughen the soil to a depth of a couple of inches. Sprinkle on the seed at a rate of about 20 seeds per sq. inch. Cover with 1/4 inch of soil by either raking lightly or sprinkling on some soil. The only chore that remains is to keep the surface soil constantly moist until roots are well established.

4. We have a chain link fence that I'd like to cover with vegetation. Can you recommend a vine that will provide a dense screening effect?

There is more than one to meet your need. Common Dutchmanspipe, Aristolochia durior, is a rapid grower with large heart-shaped leaves that create a fast, dense screen. A second possibility is Virginia Creeper, Parthenocissus quinquefolia. It blends well with a rustic landscape, but may be too rampant for small yards. A hardy grower for this purpose is Ampelopsis brevipedunculata, commonly called porcelain berry. It is a moderate grower that has clusters of berries in the fall.

5. Our Squash vines have wilted and died recently. They were doing beautifully up until a week ago. What is wrong?

Squash are now being plagued by vine borers, which give this type of symptom. Check the stem near ground level of any plants that remain alive. Look for a small hole in the stem near ground level with exudate coming from it. This confirms that a vine borer has entered the stem and is feeding.

The best control is prevention by using Sevin or Malathion at the base of squash plants so adults will be deterred from laying eggs. After the boring worm is in the stem, making a slash in the vine may be useful to kill the worm but, of course, you will injure the vine too.

6. Why do so many lawns look brown now? Ours seems to be especially brown in the sunniest part of the yard.

Most of those brown lawns are suffering from drought. A thorough watering to a depth of six inches at least once per week is recommended. In compacted soils aeration might be necessary to assist in water penetration. A small zone can be aerated using a pitch fork. Large areas could be aerated by a mechanical spiking or coring machine. Lawns that exhibit rings of brown grass with live grass in the center probably have Fusarium Blight. A bulletin on its control can be obtained from the County Extension Service.

7. Our apricots are ripe now but they are also getting rotten. Large decayed spots, sometimes covered with mold, are ruining our crop. How can it be prevented next year?

This is probably the disease called brown rot. Regular spraying with all-purpose fruit spray will keep it under control. These spray applications are especially important in early spring while blossoms are in the bud stage and again while fruit is maturing and ripening. Commercial orchardists use fungicides, one of the components of all-purpose spray, as often as every two to four days if there is much rain during the pre-bloom stage. For the backyard grower, regular spraying means an application every week to two weeks.

Lotion can be friend

Working women need versatile products they can depend on. That's why baby lotion is the working woman's best friend — it's versatile and convenient. The small plastic flip-top container fits easily into a desk drawer or pocketbook so that it's there when you need it.

Baby lotion is a cleanser as well as a softener. If you are going to reapply makeup during the day, baby lotion is all you need to cleanse your face. It removes the dirt and grime and serves as a non-greasy softening base for new makeup. It even gives your face a soft glow under those harsh office lights.

Take a few moments during the day to give your hands baby lotion's special softening treatment. And if you're going sleeveless, don't forget those neglected elbows. You'll be surprised how smooth all your skin can feel after a little baby lotion attention.

Terry is the berries

Terry cloth used to be confined to loungewear and beachwear. No more. Terry Cloth has gone public in a big way.

This summer, lightweight terry cloth is turning up in jumpsuits, shorts outfits and one- and two-piece summer dresses. Terry dresses go anywhere — from office to poolside to parties.

To keep your cool under the newest fashion fabric, dust on a layer of soft baby powder before you dress. The baby powder adds an extra layer of absorbency to help keep you dry and comfortable on the hottest of summer days.

You'll not only look and feel fresh, but baby powder's light fragrance will give you that clean, fresh-as-a-baby smell.

M.S.U.'s Dr. Borosage

Family expert finds marriage 'alive and well'

The shortcomings of marriage are being spelled out on magazine covers, railed at on television and whispered about at weddings.

However, Dr. Vera Borosage, a Michigan State University specialist in family and child sciences, believes marriage in America is not a dying institution despite highly publicized and often contrary statistics.

For most people courtship is a time of excitement, of discovery, new understanding and warmth.

But what happens after you marry? According to Dr. Borosage, adjusting to and living with the everyday "real person" in your mate is seldom easy.

There is no secret formula for marital bliss.

"Every person is different, so every relationship is different," she said. "But the mental attitude of spouses toward marriage has a tremendous influence upon whether their partnership continues successfully or fails."

People often accept as truth certain myths about marriage which persist in our society, and these myths influence attitudes. Too often people marry with the wrong ideas about what marriage will or will not do for them.

Is marriage really problems galore? According to Borosage, that attitude breeds problems.

"A marriage doesn't need crepe-hangers. Negative attitudes have broken more marriages than money," she observed.

The myth that marriage is "no bed of roses" has been processed into our brain since childhood, according to Borosage. "The American educational system is missing the boat. Children should be given a realistic picture of marriage in school," she said.

Though gloomy statistics indicate one of every three marriages will fail, Borosage pointed out that America is a "marrying society" anyway.

"Marriage can't be all that unpleasant — 60 percent of divorced people remarry, and there still are two out of three marriages which don't end in divorce," she added.

Borosage predicted that the divorce rate probably will stop rising and stabilize. One reason may be that today, the average person marries at an older age, and an older-age person probably will have a more realistic picture of what to expect from marriage.

Too many people believe the myth that marriage is a downhill experience, according to Borosage. Most certainly, the honeymoon ends, but there's no reason why a marital relationship should be downhill.

boring or empty. Couples can keep a marriage alive. If two people strive to grow as individuals, there is a much better chance that they will continue to grow as a couple, she predicted.

A Cornell University study shows that when couples reach middle age and older, marriages are happier.

The unhappiest years of marriage are when couples are young — during the first 10 years. Financial problems are most likely to occur during the early stages of marriage, and children often lend to marital conflict.

"Once children go off to lead their own lives, the marriage usually gets better — depending, of course, upon the quality of the marriage from the beginning," Borosage said.

She does not recommend that spouses give up their own individuality and goals. She called to mind the classic case of a wife who sacrifices her time and educational pursuits to work and support the family while her husband finishes school. The wife becomes isolated in a menial job where she has no opportunity for growth, and suddenly, she doesn't measure up to her spouse's standards. So, he divorces her, and she's left with no fruits for her efforts.

"Women should not allow this to happen," Borosage asserted. "Let your husband work part-time. Even if it takes him a year longer to get through school, it will be better for the marriage," she said.

Another myth that should be explored is the one that contends men are different from women, according to Borosage. There are biological differences between the sexes. Men are physically stronger, but most women are perfectly capable of doing most jobs that men can do, she said. Except for biological differences, any other differences are learned — not inherent.

"People are individuals and can't be stereotyped. We need to respond to the person — it doesn't matter what the sex is."

Can children cure an ailing marriage? "That's another silly myth," said Borosage. If the marriage is wavering, a child is likely to totally destroy what little stability is left.

Is marriage a solution for problems and unhappiness? No, it is not, according to the specialist. Marriage does not change basic personality traits. If people tend to be unhappy or negative, they bring these attitudes with them into the marriage.

Another legend perpetuated by our society contends that successful marriages have no conflict. "Perhaps if two sheep got married, that might be true," said Borosage. "But good marriages between human beings do have conflicts." Successfully married people try to solve their differences; they don't internalize problems. They will compromise or agree to disagree, and after the conflict has been discussed, it is forgotten.

"Couples must have the ability to overcome anger and put disagreements in the past. Part of forgiving is forgetting," Borosage said.

Is good communication the cure-all for marital conflict? Not always, according to the specialist. All the talking in the world can't resolve some conflicts or make them any easier to live with. Furthermore, there are times when "telling all" can make things worse. Spouses should exercise self-control and think about how what they are about to say might affect their mate.

Another common myth maintains that marriage is more important to women than to men.

"That's bunk," Borosage said. In the old days, women were eager to marry for economic security. Nowadays, women are better educated, have more career opportunities and can earn a substantial living on their own. Furthermore, research has shown that married men are happier, live longer and have fewer psychosomatic illnesses than single men.

Gene Greek, Community Relations Manager, Wyandotte, offers you this telephone tip:

Teach your children how to use the phone in an emergency!

Anyone can have an emergency at home that calls for fast, intelligent use of the phone... a sudden illness, accident, fire. Hopefully, you already have a list in your phone book or elsewhere near the phone, giving the numbers of your doctor, hospital, poison control, police, fire department and your home address. But, if you have children at home, would they know how to use the phone in an emergency? Make sure they do.

Show them where you keep the emergency numbers and how to call the operator, if necessary. Your babysitter should be told who to call, too. Know if 911 can be dialed for fire, medical and police help in your area. Nobody likes to think about emergencies at home. But, it's better to give it a little thought now, than be sorry you didn't later. Why not check out the family on your emergency phone call procedure right now?

Local 900 hosts towel, linen sale

An extremely important problem to consumers these days is ever-increasing inflation and worry about what can be done to keep prices down.

An encouraging development to this end is a completely new concept of marketing, which could be called "Direct to the consumer" sales, according to UAW Local 900, which is sponsoring the project.

The product is purchased direct from the producer or manufacturer, and distributed directly to the buying public, eliminating the middleman.

Local 900 accepted an offer from a large linen supply house to conduct a direct towel and linen sale at 38110 Michigan Avenue, in Wayne, across the street from the Ford plant.

The linens will be sold right out of the boxes as shipped, without any display counters or sales personnel present, with the intention of saving money by holding prices down. UAW executive director said.

The towel and linen sale runs August 8, 9, and 10, from 10 a.m. till 9 p.m., and August 11 from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m.

Three trailer loads of American-made brands, towels, pillows, sheets, and blankets, to name a few, will be offered for sale.

Westland team in state finals

Little Leaguers edge Belleville, 3-0

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

Westland Central West Major Little League All-Stars won a thrilling pitcher's duel Sunday afternoon, 3-0, to win the Sectional title and advance to the state finals tomorrow afternoon.

Belleville, the victim of Billy Purdue's strong two-hitter, had an ace of its own in John Dillon, who scattered four hits and struck out four Westland batters.

Actually, the Sectional title game was decided in the third inning as Westland scored all its runs before a large throng at Taylor South Little League Park.

The game was a scoreless tie going into the third when a touch of wildness gave Westland its opportunity. Dillon walked Mike Young and Keith Riling before Dan Martin lined a triple down the right field line to score them both.

Then Martin scored on a passed ball to give Westland a 3-0 edge it never relinquished.

Purdue was tough in the clutch for Westland, allowing only two hits, walking one and fanning nine Belleville willow wielders. However,

Belleville did make a strong move in the fourth inning that was squashed by Westland's alert defense.

Jason Burnett opened the inning for Belleville and was hit by a pitch. Brian Bigvall lined a single to left field and the throw to third was too late to nab the flying Burnett. However, alert third baseman Dan Martin whirled and fired to second sacker Mike Young to flag down Bigvall, who tried to take an extra base on the throw in.

Purdue fanned the next Belleville hitter and the last batter flew out to end the threat.

"Pitching and defense have been the key to our team's success all year and the boys continue to do the job," exclaimed excited manager Mike Doller after the Sectional win.

Westland new advances to the state finals and is scheduled to play at 3 p.m. Friday (Aug. 11) at Memorial Park, 2025 Beaconsfield in Harper Woods. If Westland wins Friday, it will play again Saturday.

The victory gave Westland its first District championship ever and was the team's six consecutive win in area, district and sectional play.

Manager Doller, whose team is "sound as a dollar", rode the strong right arms of Purdue, who won four games, and Rick Osterhout, winner of two victories including a no-hitter.

Westland beat Taylor South, 8-5, and Lincoln Park South, 2-0, in winning the District title.

Purdue was touched for seven hits by Taylor, but fanned 14 batters in six innings and walked only one. His teammates staked him to three runs in the first and three more in the second as they knocked the Taylor starter out of the box.

Martin's 2-for-3 and Osterhout's two-run homer over the right centerfield fence in the first inning were key blows in the game.

Against Lincoln Park South in the one-game elimination tournament, Westland squeezed two runs out of a pair of second inning singles to win, 2-0.

Osterhout scattered five hits, giving up a single in each of the last five innings, walked three and struck out 11, most of them in key situations.

Batting hero of the game was third baseman John McKolay who singled sharply to right center to drive in both runs. Osterhout opened the inning with a single and Steve Cuomo reached first on an error. Cuomo stole second before McKolay stroked the winning blow.

Prior to the districts, Westland swept three games, beating Redford, 10-2; Taylor North, 2-0; and Lincoln Park North, 16-2.

Most spectacular win was Osterhout's no-hitter against Taylor. The gritty right-hander fanned eight batters and walked eight in the nail-biting decision.

Again Westland had Dame Fortune's smile as it could only score in one inning, but it was the margin of victory. Mike Young's clutch fifth-inning triple drove home both runs.

Taylor had threatened in the fourth. With the game a scoreless deadlock, a Taylor batter walked and stole second base. However, when the ambitious runner tried to steal third, Westland catcher Bob Kujawski nailed him with a perfect strike to third baseman Dan Martin who slapped the tag on the aspiring thief.

In the Area championship game, a 16-2 romp over Lincoln Park North, right fielder Rob Czajka went wild at the plate. He clubbed three hits in four tries, including a long double and had five runs batted in.

Steve Cuomo and John McKolay each had 2-for-3 and Mike Young and Dan Martin each had a pair of singles.

Tom Mooradian, Sports Editor

The Sports Meridian

A rookie sits in for tired veteran...

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Let's see now.

This looks like Tom Mooradian's desk—and that's the place my boss told me to take for the next two weeks. I say it must be Tom's desk because the wall is cluttered with a million sports pictures and sports record books are jammed back-to-back the entire distance of his light brown desk.

This should be a snap. Everybody says the sports pages are the "toy department" of the newspaper so the next two weeks should not only be a lot of fun, but be as easy as saying, "He slid into third base!"

Boy, this chair feels comfortable. I'll relax a minute before plunging into the job of filling five sports pages this week.

RING: There goes the phone already.

"Hello, Jim, how ya doing?" asks a cheerful voice over the phone.

"This is Bob Eisiminger, remember me?"

We renew old acquaintances when I covered his American Legion baseball teams a few years back for another newspaper. Then he says, "Jim, I wonder if you can help me. I'm the athletic director at Riverview High School and when Dearborn defeated its millage all their schools lost their sports programs."

"We had Fordson scheduled in football for Friday, Sept. 15, and now that Fordson won't have a team, we have an open date and would like to fill it with some other high school. We also have open dates for fall, winter and spring sports and I would appreciate a call from any high schools wishing to play us—either home or away, it doesn't matter."

"Please have them call me at home at 728-4587 or at 285-7365 as soon as possible."

I jotted a note to put something in the paper about Bob's need. But before I wrote that story, I was concentrating on a sports column that would win me a Pulitzer Prize.

While my thoughts turned to my cold typewriter, the phone jangled again.

"Sports Desk," I said firmly, trying to sound important, you know, like I knew what I was doing. Come to find out it was only Bill Hawley, athletic director at Wayne Memorial High School.

"Jim, how ya doing? Could I ask a favor of you? Now I don't know why, but it seemed like an instant replay of my other phone call a few minutes before."

"No," I answered sternly, "we don't do any favors on Mondays." (For the uninitiated, that's our sports deadline day when we receive an average of 347 requests to "Please just get this one story in this week's paper.")

Bill, who did a super job at ANP's Golf Tournament two weeks ago, sounded startled. I assured him I was only kidding. (I hate to hear a grown man cry, especially athletic directors who work so hard.)

"Jim, we've had a change in our fall physicals at Wayne Memorial," he explained. "Would you tell your readers that the boy's physicals for fall sports will be Thursday, Aug. 10 at 3:30 p.m. in the gym? And would you mention that the physicals for girls' sports will be at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 22?"

I told him I'd think about it...

Now back to my prize-winning sports column. My eyes gazed off into the distance, my mind trying earnestly to capture a thought to turn into a subject for a column.

As my eyes slowly panned the room, I glanced at a note that someone must have typed in haste...

The note read: "Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club...Junior Olympics meet was held Tuesday. Awards will be presented at Family Potluck Banquet Friday, Aug. 11, at 6 p.m.... Banquet at Wayne Community Center...All members of Dolphin Swim Club and families are invited..."

I made a mental note to get that announcement into the paper also, if I got my prize-winning sports column done first.

Sitting in the chair that Tom Mooradian made famous, I couldn't help but feel like the young man who took over first base for the Yankees when Lou Gerhig ended his string of 2,130 consecutive games. (Tom looks like he's worked 2,130 consecutive days, so he decided to take two weeks off.)

And I thought the boss made a wise decision when he called me into his office and told me I'd be sitting in for the "Old Sports Editor" for a fortnight.

That is, I thought it was a smart decision until our receptionist Jackie Tarrant looked at me and asked seriously, "Do you know what to do on the sports desk?"

I kiddingly told her "No", but I really think I know what to do. I'll save all the notes for your sports stories and print everybody's else's story...

But I'm still not sure about helping out athletic directors who call to ask favors on a Monday morning...

Verona leads Wayne-Ford to state pony baseball finals

Amado Verona can do it all.

The talented baseball player led his Wayne-Ford Civic League Pony team to the state finals last week with his bat and his arm.

But he had "a lot of help from his friends."

Wayne-Ford took the Sectional 3 playoffs for the 13-14-year-olds by sweeping three games at the Civic League field.

Verona pitched a no-hitter against Chesterfield and struck out 17 batters as Wayne-Ford won, 9-1. Wayne-Ford did most of their damage in the second inning when they erupted for five runs.

Tim Filary and Eric Raymond delivered big base hits in the inning to drive in runs.

The local lads added two more runs in the third, one in the fourth and one in the seventh. Chesterfield's lone run came in the 6th inning on a walk and two errors.

In the opening sectional game against Avondale, Wayne-Ford had no trouble settling the verdict, 13-4. Verona opened the scoring in the 4th inning with a long home run. After a walk to Tony Dalimonte, Jim Armstrong and Filary ripped singles to score Dalimonte.

Avondale came back with three runs in the bottom of the fourth on three hits and an error. But Wayne-Ford took command in the fifth with Tony Wilk's two-run double the key blow.

Wayne-Ford erupted for 8 runs in the top to the seventh to finish their guests. Jamie Robertson was the winning pitcher in giving up five hits and striking out 16 batters.

In the finale, Wayne-Ford pounded out 11 hits and scored a 9-3 victory over Avondale. Verona again went the distance, allowing three runs, only four hits and fanned 11 Avondale willow-wielders.

The win gave Verona a total of 14 innings pitched in the tournament, during which he gave up three earned runs, four hits and struck out 28 batters in the two games.

Wilk rapped out three hits in four tries in the title tilt and was aided by Verona and Dalimonte, who each had a pair of safeties.

Eric Raymond led the team in the tourney with a .750 average for three games.

Scott Brown is the manager and Hank Robertson is the coach.

Midi 'best' edge coaches

Wayne Stars beat Romulus

When it comes to softball, Wayne's Women All-Stars showed they are better than Romulus's best.

Wayne hosted the All-Stars of Romulus last Friday night at Anderson field and pounded out 22 hits in romping to a 9-3 win over their visitors to the south. Wayne hurler Maureen McIntosh scattered 15 hits in allowing only three runs.

Meanwhile, Wayne's top-notch women sluggers were combining their safeties to score four runs in the first, three in the third and two more in the sixth.

Romulus jumped to a 2-0 edge in the top of the first, but McIntosh bore down and served up goose eggs every inning through the eighth, except for a lone run in the fourth.

Leading Wayne's All-Stars at the plate were a host of batters. McIntosh helped her own cause by slamming a homerun and a single; Debbie Karnia and Sharon McMasters also had four-baggers, while Kathy Podgorny had three singles and Theresa Callegari, Stacy Sailus, Cindy Konvovs and Colleen Mackey each collected two singles.

Bert Sterling was the losing hurler for Romulus, but slapped two singles to lead her team at the plate. Other Romulus batting stars were Pat Dick with two singles, Faye Savage, Linda Brook, with a single and double, and Mary Bear with a double.

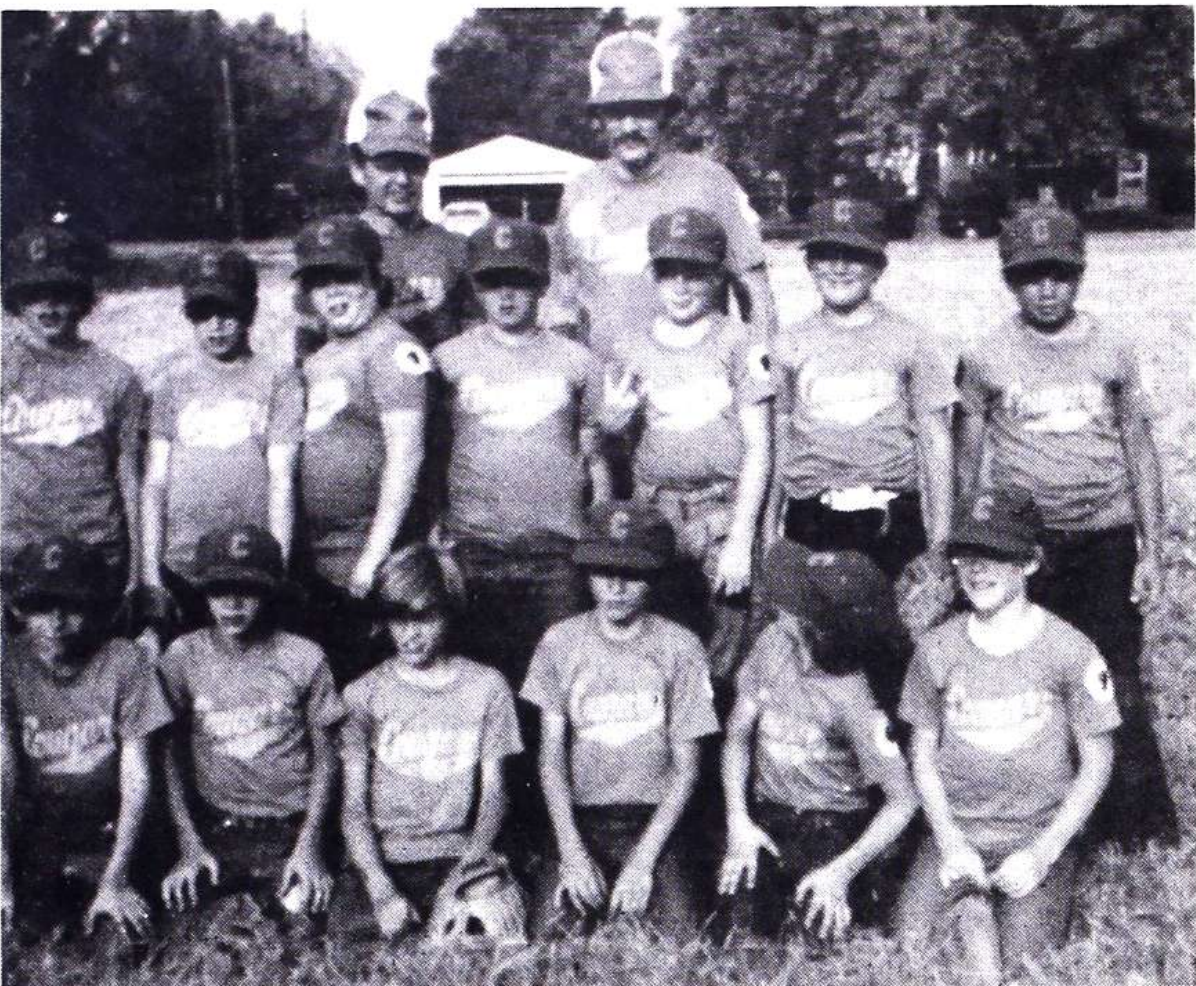

In another feature game at Anderson field in Wayne, the Midi League All-Stars, (11-13 years old), defeated their coaches 13-12 by scoring two runs in the bottom of the 8th inning.

In the fun game, the coaches scored four in the first inning, three in the fourth and two in the fifth to take a 9-0 lead. The Midi League All-Stars ironically enough scored nine

For the first time in history, Westland had a Major Little League team advance past the districts in state competition. Westland Central West All-Stars "put it all together" in sweeping six consecutive games to make it to the state finals in Harper Woods tomorrow. Manager Mike Doller's squad will play at 3 p.m. Friday (Aug. 11) and if they win, will play again Saturday. Manager Doller and coaches Phil Zuber and Steve Cuomo credit teamwork as the key to the squad's success. Pictured here are the Central West All-Stars, who defeated Belleville, 3-0, Sunday to win the Sectional Title and advance to the State Finals. Front row, from left, Rick Osterhout, Stu Martin, Keith Riling, Todd Beyer, Mike Young, Rob Czajka, Ricky Gilles, Mike Scott, Mark Fritz, Steve Cuomo and Bobby Kujawski. Back row, from left, Ed Smith, Billy Purdue, John McKolay, Coach Steve Cuomo, Manager Mike Doller, Coach Phil Zuber, Dan Martin, Chuck Varney and Randy Stonerock.

Eastern Division baseball champs

Brother, sister are standouts in weekend state AAU swim

Greg Dawkins had the kind of swimming performance most people only dream of when he swam in the 1978 Michigan AAU Long Course Championships at Southfield Civic Center this past weekend. His younger sister, Leslie, did well also. The 14-year-old Stevenson Jr. High School swimmer won two first-place medals, three second place medals, one third, one fifth and one eighth place medal.

He even broke the state record in the 100 meter free style event, but still doesn't hold the state mark in that event. And that was the prize the hard-working youngster was really striving for.

Although young Greg cut the waves in the state record-setting time of 57.4, 2-10ths below the state standard, his teammate Greg Patrell was a stroke ahead of him as he touched the finish line in 56.6 seconds.

Young Dawkins was the lead swimmer for the Fitzgerald Swim Club as it won the 400 meter freestyle relay in 4:01.6. Larry McDonald, Tom Hohnacki and Greg Patrell joined Dawkins on the team.

The same foursome won the 800 meter freestyle relay. Dawkins also did well in the individual races, finishing second three times. He did the 50 meter free style in 26.4, just 2-10ths of a second above the state record; was second to Patrell in the 100 meter free style; and second in the 200 meter free style in a time of 2:04.4, just missing the state record of 2:03.8.

Greg was third in the 400 meter freestyle in 4:27.5; fifth in the 200 I.M. in 2:31.2; and eighth in the 400 I.M. in 5:29.1.

Meanwhile, Greg's sister, Leslie, was also doing well in the prestigious AAU swimming meet.

GREG DAWKINS

Leslie, 10, a Schweitzer Elementary School 5th grader, finished third in the 100 meter freestyle in 1:15; third in the 200 meter free in 2:43 and fourth in the 50 meter free in 34.1. Leslie swam with the Westland Baracuda Swim Team this summer and took first place in her individual events in the Wayne Dolphin Invitational July 21 when she captured the 50-yard free (30.9); 50 yard fly (40.9) and 50 yard back (39.2).

All in all, it was quite a weekend for the Dawkins household.

Wayne All-Stars win

Then it was a see-saw until the "deciding" 8th inning when Gina Perusse hit a single to score Cindy Bleyle with the winning run.

Gina Perusse led the All Star attack at the plate with three singles and 3 RBI's; while Melisa Prevo, Krista Hayward, Lisa Galerno and Cindy Bleyle rapped two singles each and Nanette Lanthier added another single.

For the huffin' and puffin' coaches, Bob Sanders stroked four singles to lead his trim teammates. Chuck Leonard rapped three singles and Mary Allen had two singles and a double, while Henry Wasik clubbed two singles and two doubles. Dale Corder knocked in four runs with a homerun and a double for the overpowered coaches.

The winning Midi All Stars collected 28 hits in scoring 13 runs, while the coaches garnered 26 safeties in their "losing" effort.

Westland Babe Ruthers ousted

The farther you go in state baseball competition, the tougher it gets. Westland's team of 13-year-olds, the Babe Ruth District 3 champions, advanced to the state finals last week at Croswell, Mich.

But the local lads were walloped, 12-0, by Ypsilanti in the first round of the double elimination tournament. In the second game, Westland was in the loser's bracket and put on quite an offensive show before finally bowing to Lan'se Creuse, 9-8.

Westland just could not come up with the key hit when it was needed. Three times they left the bases loaded when the final out of the inning was made and they stranded a total of 12 base runners during the defeat which sent them on their way home.

In the last inning, Westland put two men in scoring position but the opportunity went aglimmering when Lanse Creuse got thh third out.

Gary Billings earned a moment he will never forget while at the tournament. The slugger smashed a homerun over the left field fence for the only home run of the tournament for Westland and was given the ball as a souvenir.

"Even though our Westland team only played two games in the tournament, we had an outstanding group of boys on the squad and our fans were just wonderful," said team manager Rick Foy.

"There were close to 70 people who came from Westland to Croswell to cheer for the team and we appreciate it very much," he said.

Dick Barker cruises to Flat Rock victory

Current point leader Dick Barker of Fraser, Michigan kept on the right track at Flat Rock Speedway Saturday night, winning his fifth Late Model feature of the season. Barker cruised to the win over Ed Cooper of Clark Lake, Michigan.

Third was Harold Cook of Sylvania, Ohio, fourth was newcomer Tom Harrington of Loveland, Ohio, and fifth was Mel Gilette of Howell, Michigan.

Joy Fair of Pontiac, Michigan set fast time for the Late Models with a 12:37, but retired to the pits after an altercation with another car in the feature event. Cooper won the dash, with Bob Frederick of Clawson, Michigan, Al Schwartz of Union Lake, Michigan, and Royce Cornett of Lambertville, Michigan taking heat wins.

The pursuit had the crowd on its feet as Fair and Jim Britt of Detroit came across the line in a dead heat. Frank Loving of Taylor, Michigan won the consolation race.

Chuck Hall picked up the win in the 15 lap Figure 8 feature event. Bob Studt of Dearborn Heights, Michigan was second, followed by John Briggs of Ypsilanti, Michigan, and Drury Ramsey of Detroit.

Studt set a new track record in time trials for the Figure 8's with a 13:89. John Briggs took the dash, and Hall and Billy Simmons of Plymouth, Michigan were heat race winners.

The 12 lap Street Stock feature was won by Steve Cronenwett, as he held off Johnny Hi to win by a car length. Joe Barber was third.

Hi posted fast time with a 15:09. Heat winners were Keith Richards, Larry Farmer, Hoss Bower, and Jerry Mulawa.

Adams sets physicals for athletes

Athletes who are thinking about playing football or swimming for Adams Junior High School this fall should get their physicals out of the way.

School officials last week announced that physicals will be conducted at 9 a.m., Aug. 16 and all potential gridgers and tankers should report to the gym.

There is no charge for the physicals and further information may be obtained by telephoning the school.

Be part of the exciting action next Saturday night at Flat Rock Speedway as the Late Models, Figure 8's, and Street Stocks compete on the 1/4 mile asphalt oval.

Time trials begin at 6:30 and racing at 8:00 p.m.

Flat Rock Speedway is located 1 mile south of Flat Rock on Telegraph Road (U.S. 24).

Romulus residents ask city to lease land for baseball

By ERIC GEARNS
(Special to ANP)

Three weeks ago Jack Moores was mad at everybody connected with the City of Romulus, especially the Department of Parks and Rec and the Romulus School Board. Today all has changed.

Moores, the President of the North Romulus Little League, reported to ANP that the condition of the field for this league was atrocious and that everyone he went to for help seemed to be passing the buck. Moores said in an interview this week that the story published in the paper made many Romulus citizens aware of the situation and things really started happening.

"I have received a tremendous response to the article," said Moores, "and with the people behind us now, things are really starting to move."

Moores had suggested that the best plan would be for the City to donate some land to the league which they, in turn, would develop. Since the article has appeared, a petition drive has been launched by the league with 40 citizens circulating petitions door to door.

The petitions ask that the City Council lease to the league 10 acres of city property for $1 which would be developed into a five field complex for the 700 kids ages 8-18 involved in the four different leagues.

The petition drive has garnered more than one thousand in just one week and will be turned over to the City Council at the September 12 meeting at 8 p.m.

In addition to the petition, Moores will also present to the Council complete architectural and blueprint layouts of the proposed facility. The league anticipates spending over $250,000 in the seven years they expect it will take to have the project completed. If all goes well they expect to have the field for 8-12-year-olds ready for action next year.

The league raises their own funds through a very successful bingo program held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday morning at the Romulus Progressive Hall on Ozga road. The bingos have been so popular that Moores indicated the league intends to add another program at night.

Moores says that this type of idea is not new. "Taylor, Wayne, Melvindale, and Lincoln Park have all added great facilities onto existing Parks and Rec developments and that is what we intend to do in Romulus," he said.

Moores, who is the full-time trainer for the University of Detroit, also wants the taxpayers of Romulus to know that this facility will cost them nothing. "There are no taxpayer dollars involved," says Moores, "the entire building and maintenance of the facility will be paid for by the league."

In addition to seeking citizen support by way of petition, Moores is also asking for the support of the business and social community and will appear before the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, and "We the People" organizations to promote his plan.

Moores hopes to see a big turnout at the Sept. 12 City Council meeting which starts at 8 p.m. "We feel our organization is involved in a community-oriented project which will immensely benefit the youth of our city and give its citizens something to be proud of," said Moores.

The complex will feature grass infields and outfields, fences, warning tracks, enclosed dugouts, and scorekeepers areas, a full complement of lights, an electronic scoreboard and sufficient modern spectator seating.

The league president feels confident that the City Council will see things their way and says, "The City Council and Recreation Commission have been very supportive of improving the recreational facilities in our community as evidenced by their involvement in the Elmer Johnson park complex, and I feel confident that they will continue that involvement by supporting our project."

They'll seek world softball title

A third place finish at the recent Wayne Women's Slo-Pitch Softball Tournament placed Big Bill's Sporting Goods of Wayne into the World Tournament that will be staged over the Labor Day weekend in Southgate, Michigan. The Wayne delegation will be made up of coach Jim Thatcher, players Ellie Stelberger, Peg Boyce, Cheryl Larson, Pat Cunningham, Thersa Gibson, Wendy Reynolds, Mary Crechiolo, Cheryl Szczodrowski, Pattie Silye, and coach Al Campbell; second row are batboy Doug Campbell, players Brenda Titpon, Nance Crehign, Chris Witek, Beth Tracy, Debbie Nuckolls, Renee Burnie, Cathy Campbell, Kim Schwartz and Coach Bill Schwartz. Bill's has amassed an enviable 32-8 record as they prepare for the stretch run of the campaign.

Romulus girls place in swim

Two Romulus girls swam this past weekend in the State Long Course Championship AAU Swim Meet at Southfield and did very well.

Swimming for the Taylor Pool Sharks, Rita Stanton, 10, 30561 Cherry St., and Tammy Kushner, 30408 Cherry St., qualified for the meet by swimming among the fastest times in the state for their events.

Rita's team placed third in the 200-meter medley relay and fifth in the free style relay. Individually, she was third in the 100-meter butterfly and seventh in the 50-meter butterfly.

Tammy placed 12th in the 100-meter breast stroke and also participated in the 50-meter breast stroke.

Both girls had a busy day last Saturday as they also traveled to Community Center Pool in Lincoln Park where they qualified for the State Recreational Meet this Saturday at Wyoming, Mich., near Grand Rapids.

Wildwood Cubs win title

Wildwood Cub Scout Pack 774 has won its second straight Tonquish District Softball Championship. Kevin Patterson drove in the winning run in the seventh inning against Kettering Pack 853 in the 18-17 victory.

The win completes Wildwood's second undefeated season with an 18-0 record. Pitcher Tim Johns was the most valuable player by winning all 18 games and hitting 30 home runs.

The team is led by Manager Nino

Stabile, and coaches Walt Kline, Zygmund Niedzolek and Mike Johnson.

Players include Dave Peterson, Ben Chafin, Doug Johns, Mark Stabile, Dan Ford, Rod Jenkins, Edwin Greenlead, Kevin Patterson, Dominic Macika, Wally Kline, Chris Pandel, Rick Julien, Tim Johns, Rich Niedzolek and Jeff Johnson.

The Tonquish Softball League is made up of 20 Cub Scout teams from Wayne, Westland, Garden City, Canton and Inkster.

Calling all Wayne Harriers

With the season just a flip of a page of a calendar away, Coach Ernie Righetti is setting up camp for his cross country team at Wayne Memorial High. Righetti, whose Zebras have dominated the Great Lakes 8 Conference for the past couple of years, announced this week that he'll hold his first practice on Monday, Aug. 14 at 5:30 p.m.

The Wayne coach is urging all those who plan to run for the team to meet behind the high school in the area which has become known as "the flats."

Belleville softball girls finish 4th in state finals

Belleville's Senior Girls fast pitch softball team suffered the same disappointment on the state level that they did last year.

With high hopes, and a strong team, the 13-15 year old girls repeated as sectional champions and hoped for a better fate than their fourth-place finish a year ago. But they faced the "fastest pitcher they'd ever seen" in losing to Milwood, 13-0, and then lost a 7-6 heartbreaker in the second game to finish fourth, the same as they did last summer.

Pam Edwards of Milwood fired a one-hitter and struck out 12 Belleville batters on her way to the 13-0 romp. "After the game, everybody said they have never seen a 15-year-old girl throw as fast as Pam Edwards," said Belleville Manager Dick Nota.

Pam struck out eight of the first nine Belleville batters she faced. In the 6th inning, with two runners on base, Belleville's Vickie Forest hit a long drive to left center field that looked like it would go all the way to the fence. But Milwood center fielder Shelly Virkus made a super back-handed grab to save the no-hitter up to that point.

In the top of the 7th with one out, Jackie Moore stroked a clean line drive single to left center field to break up the no-hitter. Belleville pitcher Sue Meyer gave up eight hits but seven errors and eight walks were too much to overcome.

In Friday's game, Belleville lost to Gaylord, 7-6, when they could not get the key hit when needed. Kristen Fosdick was the winning pitcher for Gaylord while Sandy Mattson took the loss.

Sandy allowed only five hits and four walks but Belleville committed five costly errors behind her. The winning runs scored from first and second base when a pop fly dropped behind second base in short center field.

Vickie Forest had two singles in four trips for Belleville and teammate Kim Beckley had a triple and two runs, while Sandy Mattson slugged a long triple.

Gaylord went on to beat Milwood, 6-2, but Clintondale took Gaylord, 9-5 in the final game.

Clintondale now advances to Kalamazoo to compete in the Mid-West Regionals Aug. 10-12. In the state finals, Clintondale finished first, Gaylord, second, Milwood, third and Belleville, fourth for the second straight year.

Manager Nota and Coach Carol Hardy said they were very proud of their girls and added they will only lose six 15-year-olds, while eight will return to make a run at the state title again next year.

"The girls played great defense and were hitting the ball hard all the way through the districts and sectionals," said Nota. "They had a little let-down in Bay City, but they have nothing to be ashamed about as there were a lot of teams that never got as far as they did."

Team members include Kim Beckley, Vickie Forest, Toni Grieve, Kathy Hardy, Mandy Hancock, Maria Koss, Sandy Mattson, Sue Meyer, Jacki Moore, Tammi Smith, Debbie Stull, Roxanne Wegienka, Nancy Wisniewski and Colleen Wojcik.

Archery expert to visit

Fred Bear, Chairman and founder of Bear Archery Company, Grayling, Michigan, and world renowned bowhunter, woodsman, conservationist, author, and flyfisherman, will be in the Detroit area on August 25 and 26. During his active outdoor life he has produced 18 films, wrote several books and magazine articles and has taken over 125 species of big game animals, two of which are world records.

On August 25th and 26th Fred Bear is returning to the Detroit area where his company was founded. Fred will be at Mar-Lon Archery's new Livonia facility for those two days. Mar-Lon Archery is located at 28275 Plymouth Road, Livonia, Michigan.

Westland's 3rd flight leaders

It's always feels good to come away from a tournament sporting a trophy. And these three - Dick Perman (from left), Guy Hayes and Roger Pentrak - were the top three finishers in the recent City Championship Golf Tournament's Westland third flight. Perman shot 180 for 36 holes and won the flight honors, while Hayes was third strokes back. Pentrak carded a 192 for third place honors. The tournament was staged at Fellow Creek and medalist for 1978 was Wayne's Tom Piscopink who garnered a record-scoring eight under par 136 for the two-day tournament.

At Wonderland Center

Golf clinic dates are set

If your want to improve or learn the facts of golfing, the Wonderland Shopping Center and the Wayne-Westland YMCA are looking for you. Free golf clinics will be held at Wonderland Center on Fri., Aug. 18 at 6:30 p.m. The lessons will be offered to the first 100 persons who register. Oasis Golf Center Pro, Bob Kuhn, and his assistants will demonstrate correct form and will be available to answer a limited number of questions on specific problems.

Participants should bring a putter, wedge or nine iron to the clinic. Golfers wishing to attend are advised to sign up in advance by telephoning 522-4100.

Wonderland Center is located at Plymouth and Middlebelt Rds.

Meanwhile, the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA will be having its First Invest In Youth Golf Tournament on Aug. 23 at Burroughs Farms Golf Course in Brighton. Tee-off times will be from 8 a.m.

until 11 a.m. and will be by arrangement.

The $35 per person registration cost will include 18 holes of golf, dinner, refreshments and prizes.

Also, golfers will have an opportunity to play horse-shoes, shuffle board, cards and swim in the lake, once their round of golf is out of the way.

Further details may be obtained by telephoning the YMCA at 721-7044 or Ron Newth, YMCA board member at 721-8000.

Burghuff bows

Wayne has new Class A leader: Das Hofbrauhaus

Das Hofbrauhaus piled up a ton of runs in routing two foes as it swept two games and wrested first place from Burghuff Bar in the Wayne Class A men's softball league.

Meanwhile, Burghuff Bar, which has led the league for most of the season, "forgot" to take their bats as they dropped a tough 5-4 decision to lowly Jim's Hangers in falling from the top perch.

Das showed plenty of "lumber" as they pounded last-place Roeder's Tropicals, 22-7, and came back to wallop Garden City Sporting Goods, 23-12.

The chain of events left Das in first place with a 12-5 mark, a game and a half ahead of Burghuff and Broncos, tied for second with 10-6 slates.

Das came out swinging in the first inning against Roeder's and posted 10 runs on the scoreboard and added four each in the second and fourth innings in their 22-7 waltz.

Gary Schewe put on quite a "show" with two singles, a double and homerun in driving home five runs in the rout. Jim Hubbs also hit a round-tripper and two singles. Jim Spence added three singles and Gary Dargo rifled two singles and a double for 5 RBI's.

Charles Taylor took the loss and Roger Cowell scattered 10 hits for the win. Avis Dorsey singled twice and Greg Piscopink doubled and tripled for Roeder's.

Against G.C. Sporting Goods, Das pounded out all 23 runs in four consecutive innings - four in the 2nd, five runs in the 3rd inning, 8 runs in the 4th frame and 6 more in the 5th inning.

Leading the 24-hit barrage were the Schewe brothers, Gary and Jim. Larry Quartuccio and Jim Hubbs. Jim Schewe had three singles and a homerun for 5 RBI's; Gary Schewe hammered three singles and a double for three RBI's; Quartuccio slammed two singles and a long triple, while Hubbs drove home six runs with a homerun and two singles.

G.C. made one counter-attack when it scored six runs in the bottom of the second to take a 6-4 lead but Das' powerful bats settled the issue with five runs the next inning.

G.C. Sporting Goods' 16-hit attack was spearheaded by Joe Files, who homered and singled twice, and Bob Hobbs, who drilled a single, double and homer.

Burghuff Bar must have thought someone took the bats out of their hands in their 5-4 loss. The front-runners most of the season could only pick up eight hits in the game and their 3-run first inning was almost all of their scoring punch for the night.

Heroes for Jim's Hangers (7-10) were Jim Kolodziej with a single and triple; Charlie Morris with two singles and Steve Fedulchak, two doubles. Pitching star was John Auer, who stifled Burghuff with just eight hits.

Dennis Rogowski also pitched effectively, permitting Jim's 10 hits and five runs.

Broncos staved off a 4-run seventh inning charge by Roeder's Tropicals to eke out a 10-9 win that tied them for second place with Burghuff Bar.

The win upped their record to 10-6, a game and a half behind league-leading Das Hofbrauhaus. Their 13-hit attack was led by Gary Kileph's 3 RBI's on a double and home run, and three singles off the bat of Jim Verbena.

Roeder's, whose offense was generated by Dale Hicks and Charley Taylor, each with a pair of singles, took a 5-2 lead with a four-run burst in the third.

But Broncos four in the fourth and three in the sixth for a 13-8 cushion, which proved to be enough to withstand Roeder's final thrust.

Charley Tayler was outdueled by Chris Drake on the mound as he gave up 10 runs and 13 hits, while Drake allowed a dozen safeties and 9 runs.

Joan McKim develops as Daly's No. 1 hurler

Girl's fast-pitch made a rare appearance in Westland last Saturday at the Wayne Ford Civic League.

Snyder's Oilers of Fowler took on the Daly Restaurant team of Livonia.

Snyder's features one of the state's finest off speed pitchers in Joan McKim.

Last year McKim, playing for the DeWitt Drifters, handcuffed Daly in the State Class C championship at Petoskey with a 13-1 score, and a 10-1 score in the championship game.

Earlier this spring McKim and five teammates, now playing for Lansing Community College, competed in the Midwest Collegiate Competition. Both teams exhibit top notch catchers.

Fowler plays Kat Schmitt, a 16-year-old junior from Fowler High School behind the plate while Daly counters with a veteran catcher, Sue Sanford, of Garden City most recently named the MVP of the Saginaw Pro-Am Tournament which Daly won in extra innings.

In earlier meetings this year in Fowler and in Cadillac, the two teams stand at two victories apiece. The two Daly wins were 3-0 and 4-0 shutouts while the Fowler wins were by 3-2 and 10-2 scores.

The only Westland resident on the Daly team is the former John Glenn and EMU standout, Linda Jimenez.

Other Daly players include Karen McNew and Robin Johnson of Garden City, Sue Qualls of Clarkston, Sharon Pincumbe of Flint, Lois Flannigan and Donna Meyer of Redford Township. The only high school ball players on the Daly roster are seniors Micki McLain of Redford Union and Renee Sevigny of Detroit Cady. The remaining Daly players are Jan Brown and Nancy Greeley of Plymouth, Nadeen Ouellette of Livonia, Evelyn Micol of Waterford, Sally Chaney of Novi, and Dortha Paulin of Dearborn Heights. Daly is managed by Robert Thompson, a science teacher at the Adlai Stevenson junior high school in Westland.

Pull the cable off one spark plug to check your car's ignition system. Hold the end of the cable about a quarter of an inch from the engine and have someone turn the key to the start position. As the starter turns, a spark should jump from the cable to the engine. If there is no spark, remove the bolts or spring clip holding the distributor cap in place and remove the cap. Check the wiring for breaks, worn insulation or loose connections. Open the points by pulling on the movable arm and inspect the surfaces. If pitted, or dirty, they can be cleaned by scraping with a file, a knife blade, or the striking surface of a match book. If unsuccessful, you are ready for expert advice from your nearest service technician or mechanic.

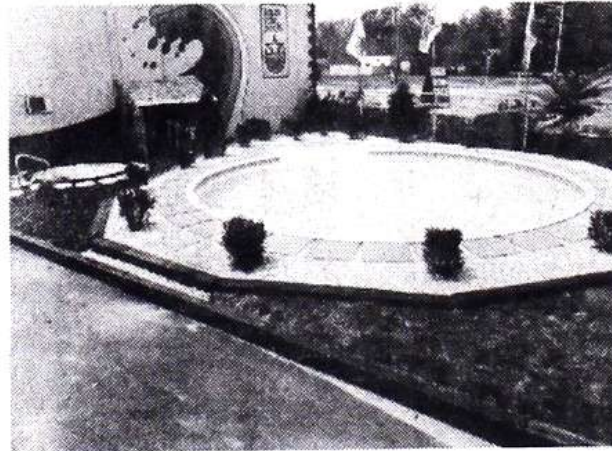

Get the expert advice you need from the experience staff at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster! We handle all phases of machine work for any size engine - from motorcycle to Diesel. Our expert mechanics do all types of work on automotive, industrial, marine, agricultural, and other engines. Bring your engine problems to our complete machine shop for fast, efficient, and reasonably-priced service. We also have a complete inventory of parts for both foreign and domestic cars. Studio Lounge stretches streak to 11

Class A leaders close in on Westland softball title

Undefeated league-leading Studio Lounge rode two 6-run innings to a lop-sided 14-2 victory over Johnny's Shell to remain atop the standings of the Class A Women's League.

Studio jumped on losing pitcher Cheryl Shaffer in the first inning for six big runs and six more counters in the fourth clinched the contest as the big bats of Heather Domke, Maureen McIntosh and Karen McElyea made the difference.

Domke had a homer, two singles and four runs-batted-in, McIntosh also had 2 RBI's on a homerun and a pair of singles while McElyea's double and homer drove four teammates across.

Winning Studio pitcher Sharon Turflinger scattered 11 hits and served up goose eggs the last five innings after Johnny's Shell tallied single runs in the first and second. Johnny's record dropped to 7-4 despite three hits by Christal Minton and two each by Carol Mull and Becky Cole.

In Johnny's other game, they pounded out 18 hits in beating Hudson's Westland, 11-7. The teams each scored three in the first and were tied, 7-7, after five innings before Johnny's four-run outburst in the sixth settled the issue.

Cheryl Shaffer held Hudson's Westland to 10 hits and was supported on the attack by Peggy McMahon's two singles and triple, three singles by Christal Minton and a homer and single and two RBI's by Dawn LaLonde. Hudson's squad was led by Cindy Watts, Barb Wray, who also had a homerun, and Pat Hughes.

Hudson's Westland looked like a sure winner the next game against Crestwood Dodge when it scored 9 runs in the top of the first inning and led 18-10 after the top of the fourth.

But Hudson's bats went silent the last two innings and Crestwood Dodge came up with three runs in the fourth and six in the bottom of the sixth inning to nip Hudson's, 19-18.

Crestwood also edged the loser's in hits, 19-18, as Terri Miller rapped out three singles, Donna Reed banged a homer and single for three RBI's, and Joyce Dupont singled twice. Arlene Bozyk scored three runs and Jeannine Gwizdak dented the plate four times.

Pacing Hudson's attack were Cindy Watts' homer, double and two singles for 3 RBI's; losing pitcher Doris Madar's three singles and Carol Marshall's two singles.

That loud boom last week was not thunder, it was VFW Bova Post batters bombing Westland Lock and Key, 33-6, and blasting 34 hits.

VFW romped for 19 runs in the third inning as Bova Post upped its record to 8-3 for third place. Igniting the dynamite were Rhonda Dreher with five hits and four RBI's, while Gloria Gannette and Marilyn Valuet each had four hits and three RBI's.

Mary Brown scored five runs and Karen Lowery three for winning pitcher, Karrie Betaew.

Meanwhile, J & D Auto stung Power Packs, 11-1, on a 12-hits attack to raise its record to 9-1, a game and a half behind league-leading Studio Lounge.

Winning pitcher Lynda Sylvester fired a brilliant 3-hitter, while teammates Pat Gross, Donna Thompson and Jan Harstead led the hitting attack.

Power Packs took it on the chin, 23-4, in a make-up game as Westway Trucking romped for 11 runs in the second inning to decide the outcome. Westway rapped out 31 innings in five innings with Holly Winkler and Cindy Howell each getting five hits and Laura LaCroix added four hits. Pam Kramer was the winning pitcher, as Howell knocked in six runs and Julie Lekkens scored four and Kathy Coatsworth three.

Power Packs were led at bat by Vicki Earl's three singles and two each by Barb McRoberts and Pam May.

Lowly Token Lounge broke out of a tie for last place by sweeping its two games. In a high-scoring game, Token Lounge upset Westway Trucking, 18-15, on an 18-hit attack.

Three hits by Julie Lekkens and two each by Linda Graunstadt and Lori Nagy led the attack. Trailing 11-5 in the fourth after Westway scored six in the first inning, Token got the merry-go-round spinning as they came up with 11 runs in the fourth inning.

Westway's five runs in the fifth were not enough. Barbara Frank was winning pitcher over Pam Kramer in the slugfest which saw Westway led by Diane Retch with three hits and seven RBI's, and two singles each by Judy Dorids and Jan Miastowski.

Cheryl Nichols pitched a five-hitter for Token Lounge in leading them to a 5-2 win over Westland Lock and Key. Westland Lock and Key led, 2-0, after the first inning but Nichols gathered goose eggs after that. Kathy Mendel's two singles paced Token's batters.

Perfect Champ

The Spitfires are an expansion team but they played like pros in the Westland Youth Athletic Association this season, sweeping the league and city girls' softball titles for 13-15 year olds. The line-up of the team which posted a 14-0 record included batboy Tony Graham (front row),

Dolphins win own swim invitational

In terms of hospitality, the Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club was a perfect host last week at its annual invitational. But the "perfect host" also turned into a very "stingy" organization when it came time to hand out place ribbons and, ultimately, The Wayne Dolphin Swim Invitational trophy.

When the final tally was posted, Wayne swimmers had collected a total of 150 individual ribbons and 60 as members of placing relay teams for a devastating 889 points—four times the amount compiled by Cherry Hill (213), its nearest competition.

The Westland Barracudas finished third with 204 points, followed by Lincoln Park, Crestwood and Allen Park.

Wayne captured 26 individual events—by 15 different swimmers—and also went to victories in 12 of the 15 relay events, including seven of the final eight relays of the meet. Over 125 swimmers represented the Dolphins in the invitational.

Mike Greuber, Eric Head and Jim Watts paced the Wayne crush each with three individual first places. Greuber won the 50-yard backstroke, 50-yard breaststroke, and 100-yard freestyle events in the boys' 11-12-year-old category. Head captured the 50-yard freestyle, 50-yard breaststroke and 100-yard free for boys 13-14, while Watts won the 50-yard breaststroke, 50-yard butterfly and 100-yard backstroke.

Tim White, Dan Butler, Kelly Batterson, Teri Discher and David Hills each finished first in two events. White topped the 50-yard freestyle and butterfly for 11-12 boys; Butler, the 50 and 100-yard backstroke for 15-18 boys; Batterson, the 50 and 100 freestyle races for girls 15-18; Discher, 50-yard butterfly and 100-yard backstroke for girls 15-18, and Hills, the boys 15-18 100-yard freestyle and 100-yard butterfly.

Other Dolphins with first-place honors included Dyanne Sweitkowski, Sean Barton, Tom Brown, Cathy Batterson, Lisa Mondock, Kris Balwinski, and Mary Batterson. In fourteen events the Dolphins finished at least one-two.

Coach Jim McPartlin credited the great numbers on the Wayne roster as well as the proficiency of his swimmers. He pointed to their girls' 15-18 50-yard backstroke as evidence.

"Karen Trudeau of Cherry Hill won the event, but we had Teri Discher, Jamie Thompson, Kelly Batterson, Gretchen Batterson, Cathy White and Monica Jones finished second through seventh," McPartlin beamed. "I'll gladly give away first placed for the next six," he smiled.

Brown led a Dolphin 1-2-3-4-5 finish in the 50-yard freestyle, while Mary Batterson led the Wayne charge in the girls 13-14 butterfly as she and her teammates took six of the seven spots.

The girls' 9-10 freestyle event was an all Wayne-Westland encounter won by the Westland Barracudas' Leslie Dawkins. Shelly Conley, of Wayne, was second, followed by the Barracudas' Lauren Shewman, Kelly Taylor and Karen Taylor, and finished by Wayne's Dina Mastro and Lisa Miles.

Miss Dawkins paced the Barracudas with three victories. She also captured the 50-yard butterfly for girls 10-under, and the 9-10 girls' 50-yard backstroke. Miss Shewman and Kelly Taylor finished second and third, respectively, in the backstroke.

The Wayne Recreation Dolphin Swim Club is composed of boys and girls from 7 to 18 years old who reside in the school boundary area of Wayne High School (which encompasses part of Westland), while the Westland Barracudas—coached by former Dolphin Dave Santure—is made up of boys and girls in the John Glenn High School attendance boundary area.

rectify the situation when it greets the leader later in the season.

Stewart's is seated in third with an 3-5 record while Host is 0-8 on the year.

Tourneys end tennis programs

A mixed doubles tournament August 11-13 and a junior tournament August 21-22 will complete the tennis program at Schoolcraft College this summer.

Entries for the doubles event, being held for the fourth year, are due by 9 p.m. August 8. It is a single division, open age tournament.

The entry fee is $6 a team and trophies will be awarded to the winning and runners-up teams.

The junior tournament is open to boys and girls 17 and under. There will be both singles and doubles competition and multiple divisions if the number of entries permit.

Entry fees are $2 and $4 and due by 9 p.m. August 17.

To enter either event or for additional information, contact Pat Page at the Schoolcraft Tennis House. Telephone 591-6392.

"Sales are up!

Keep those ads in the Associated Newspapers Classified Section running every day.

They're paying off!"

More successful business people than ever before are investing more of their advertising dollars than ever before in Classified Ads . . . and, they're doing it for only one reason: CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING GETS RESULTS!

Classified gives you an advantage you get in no other form of advertising because Classified is the one and only medium where people who want things voluntarily come looking for sale offers. This unique advantage is like a direct line to the prospects who are most likely to buy from you.

Because Classified is inexpensive, you never need to miss one of these ready-to-buy readers as he comes into the market. You can easily afford to have an ad in every-day . . . And, Classified is so flexible. It's easily changed to meet new selling opportunities as they arise. Team it up with your display and give special promotions a 1-2 punch that can't be beat.

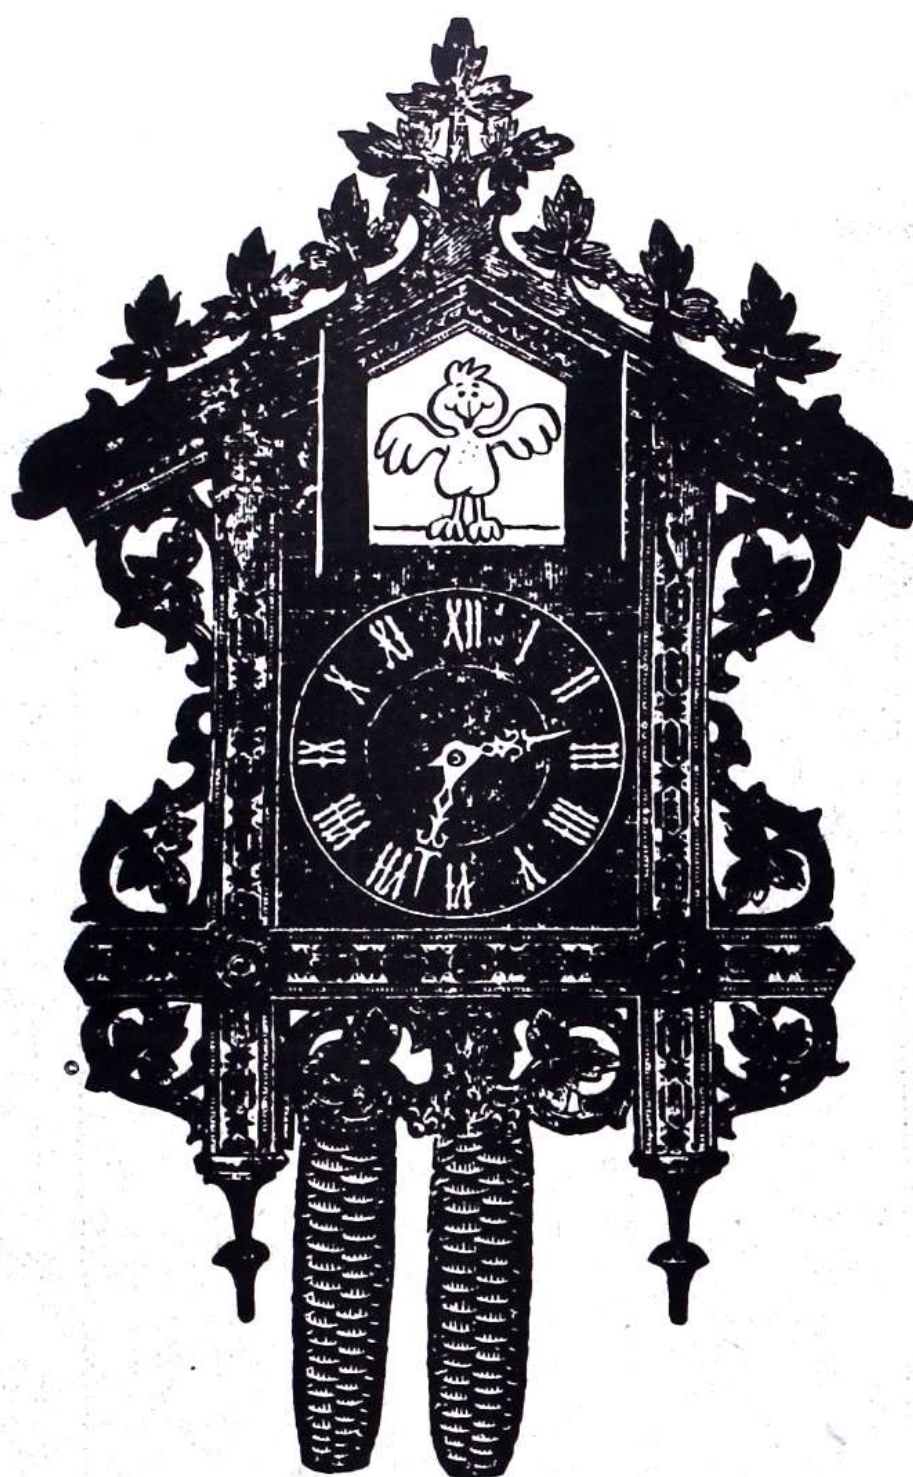

Bring in more sales and profits for your business by investing your advertising dollars in Classified Ads in this newspaper. Call an experienced account representative today. Just dial . . .

EVERY APPEARANCE COUNTS

Without the regular appearance of the little bird, attracting attention and calling out the hour, a cuckoo clock would lose its effectiveness. Every appearance also counts when you're advertising something for sale. You can increase the effectiveness of your advertising message by placing it where it will attract the most attention . . . in the Classified columns of . . .
